RUSSIA SHIFTS TROOPS

Hikes Force Facing China

. . . INFORMANTS REPORT

London (AP)—Secret reports reaching Western governments from Moscow say there has been a sizeable shift recently of Soviet army units from central Russia toward the Communist Chinese frontier.

Receipt of these reports was acknowledged in Paris and London in the past few days by high officials of several important Atlantic pact powers.

According to informed officials, the eastward movement of Soviet troops was detected —and reported — in October. One senior diplomat described the shift as having been "moderate in size."

The Soviet troops, according to these informants, were understood to be heading toward the frontier of Red China's Sinkiang Province. No indication was given, however, of new tensions in that area.

Western governments, nevertheless, are aware that over the past two years at least there has been serious trouble between the two giant Communist neighbors in and around Sinkiang.

This province, sometimes known as Chinese Turkestan, forms China's northwest frontier. Mongolia lies to the northeast, Kashmir to the southwest, and to the west and north are the Soviet Asian republics. A mysterious revolt took place in Sinkiang last year and Western authorities believe difficulties are by no means over.

Anonymous

Informants who reported recent Soviet troop movements insisted on remaining anonymous to guard their sources against possible identification.

Soviet authorities have given no indication that they may lately have reinforced their eastern garrisons. This is not surprising. Few governments advertise troop movements.

But the information reaching the West is considered accurate. Informants said it has been checked and cross-checked by Western missions in Moscow and in Western intelligence coordinating centers.

Importance

Implications of a moderate-scale switch of Soviet military power toward the eastern frontiers are considered to be of major importance by allied officials for these, among other reasons:

1. It would represent evidence that the Chinese-Soviet political dispute conceivably could have military byproducts, such as border skirmishes.

2. It would imply that Soviet military planners now must think in terms of a two-front strategy.

Explanation

3. It would seem to provide one possible explanation for the big cutback of Soviet power in the region between Moscow and Berlin.

Twice in the past month U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara has noted publicly that old allied estimates of Soviet troop strength in this area have become outdated.

The Western allies in the past have estimated the Russians had up to 175 divisions facing their own European forces. But now, on the basis of new appraisals, they say they are using about a third of that total as the basis of their counter strategy.

Lifted Corner

The Chinese and Russians last fall lifted a corner of the curtain of secrecy that has concealed the 1962 Sinkiang crisis from the gaze of curious outsiders. Peking, in early September, claimed Soviet agents carried out "large scale subversive activities" in the province, "enticing and coercing several tens of thousands of Chinese citizens" into Russia. The Russians were said to have rejected demands for the return of these people on humane and legal grounds.

Moscow countered with an accusation that the Chinese were occupying and colonizing big, but unspecified, tracts of Soviet border territories. The Chinese were warned they would meet "a most decisive rebuff" unless anti-Soviet activities ended.

—Favors Wheat Deal Credit—

SENATE OK'S FOREIGN AID

Washington (UPI) — The Senate Thursday night approved $3,272,500,000 in foreign aid spending and gave President Johnson a crucial vote of confidence on the wheat-to-Russia deal.

The House, which had slashed its version of the aid bill to $2.8 billion, announced a conference with senators Friday to thrash out a compromise figure. But indications were that the touchy wheat issue might hold up final action until January.

By a vote of 60 to 25, the Senate approved what is ultimately expected to be the smallest sum for economic, technical and military assistance abroad that Congress has approved since 1957.

Fresh Appeal

After a fesh appeal from Johnson, the senators also rejected a move to prohibit federal guarantees of private credits extended in any sale of American commodities, including wheat, to communist countries. Such a ban could wreck the proposed sale of U.S. wheat to the Soviet bloc, which Johnson and the late President Kennedy defended as in the national interest.

The House has approved a ban on Export-Import Bank underwriting of such sales. The Senate Thursday night voted, 52 to 32, to uphold its appropriations committee's refusal to agree to credit roadblocks.

House opposition to the deal seemed likely to hold up final action on the entire foreign aid bill until Congress reconvenes in January, although aid funds are still available until Jan. 31 at current levels.

GOP's Grumble

Legislators are in a hurry to go home this weekend for Christmas, and some Republicans grumbled Thursday night about putting off House-Senate negotiations on the aid bill until Friday.

House and Senate leaders are hoping to adjourn Congress for the year Friday. Some legislators predicted that a last-minute row over the wheat credits issue could upset these plans.

The Senate rejected the credit-ban amendment of Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., shortly after Johnson denounced it as an attempt "to insert a major shift of policy, already twice rejected by the Senate, into an appropriation bill."

Assurances

Johnson repeated the late President Kennedy's assurances that the sale of U.S. farm commodities to Communist nations is "plainly in the national interest."

Johnson's remarks were in a letter read on the floor by Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield, Mont.

Mansfield also read from a Nov. 15 letter in which Kennedy opposed in the "strongest possible" terms Mundt's original effort to insert the amendment into the foreign aid authorization bill, which set a ceiling on aid spending.

Failed Before

Mundt failed at that time, and again last month when the Senate rejected his proposal in a separate bill.

Mundt's supporters complained again Thursday night that federal underwriting of a wheat sale would amount to subsidization of the deal by American taxpayers.

But the Senate acted swiftly to kill his amendment after Johnson's letter was read.

Earlier Thursday, the Senate defeated most major attempts to trim the $3.3 billion foreign aid spending figure approved by its appropriations committee.

Accepted by the bill's supporters and approved by the Senate was a $23 million cut in the $1 billion previously authorized for direct military aid. Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., the bill's floor manager, noted that the cut was made in leftover funds and did not involve "new" appropriation. Also approved was a $4 million reduction in administrative expenses.

It was the first time the arms aid fund had been reduced in current debate, and it left the total money bill at $3,272,500,000. The House had approved a total of only $2.8 billion.

Assessors Should 'Act Like Umpires'

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Former State Tax Commissioner Fred Herrington Thursday told Nebraska's county assessors that they "must forget who owns the property" when they appraise real estate for tax purposes.

"It is none of your business whether he is rich or poor," Herrington pointed out. "It does not matter whether he has 10 kids using the public schools or 10 cars using the streets."

Assessors should assume the role of baseball umpires in appraising property, Herrington declared.

"You should not be interested in the outcome of the game. But, like umpires, you will be criticized whether you are right or wrong," he noted.

The week-long assessors school will conclude Friday with discussions on tax exemption, bank returns and corporation returns.

Herrington urged the assessors "not to take anything for granted" in appraisals. "Go out and look for yourself," he said.

"The greatest mistake an appraiser makes is to copy over from year to year the same assessment without examining the parcel.

Standard Procedure

Other essentials which Herrington listed included knowledge of all the facts about a real estate parcel; use of a common starting point in each case; use of a standard procedure without deviation, and consideration of all factors involved

Assessors should keep a complete, detailed record, Herrington said, and "be able to prove that you have treated each parcel alike, that you have treated each taxpayer alike."

Assessors must "account for every square inch of real estate," Herrington said. In every reappraisal in any town of some size, "you will never fail to uncover real estate not on the tax rolls," he pointed out.

In addition, assessors should exercise "complete objectivity and complete honesty . . . and have the guts to make a decision and stick to it," he said.

Appraisal is "by no means an exact science," Herrington reminded the assessors.

W. J. Mitchell Gets City Post

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Mayor Dean Petersen announced Thursday the appointment of Walter J. Mitchell of 900 So. 51st as the city's new personnel director.

Mitchell, 52, will join the city staff on Jan. 1 and succeed to the post on Feb. 1 when Personnel Director Ray Ramsay retires.

Sales Manager

Mitchell has been sales manager for Cushman Motor Works since 1947 and previously worked for two aircraft companies in sales promotion and management.

Mayor Petersen said Mitchell will be paid $11,300 annually — the same as the other city directorships except for public works, which is higher.

Mayor Petersen said the personnel post would be an important one in his administration and that Mitchell's first duties would involve the $14,500 personnel study being made by a consulting firm for the city.

He praised Ramsay's "long and distinguished career with the city."

Ramsay said he and Mrs. Ramsay, recently retired from teaching, plan a Caribbean cruise after his retirement.

From Field of 12

A native of Chicago, Mitchell was a Naval aviator during World War II and was a squadron commander at the Lincoln Naval Air Station before its deactivation. He is a licensed pilot and holds the Navy Reserve rank of commander.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell have a son, 18, who is attending Colorado College at Colorado Springs.

Cold, Water Fatal To 130 Head Of Cattle

Kennebec, S.D. (AP) —About 130 head of cattle valued at more than $25,000 were lost Thursday after being trapped on a sandbar in the Missouri River.

The cattle refused to swim in the chilling waters after officers and volunteers chopped and blasted a path through thick ice to the river shore a quarter mile away.

Some of the cattle died of the cold or drowned, others were shot. They were owned by Quincy Johnston of Woodward, Okla., who ordered the surviving animals shot when rescue appeared imppossible.

The animals were trapped Wednesday when the Corps of Engineers shut off the outflow at Big Bend Dam, downstream from the cattle range near Lower Brule, S.D.

Cowboys had moved the herd after being warned of the rising river by the engineers, but the animals wandered back and were trapped when water surrounded their small island.

A spokesman for the Corps of Engineers said the gates could not be opened to drop the water because this would endanger workmen at the dam powerhouse. Joe Patterson, area engineer said property owners were aware of the plan to hold back water and raise Big Bend Reservoir.

Dictator's Bill Unpaid

Bogota, Colombia (AP)—Former dictator Rojas Pinilla's phone has been disconnected because, the telephone company says, he hasn't paid his bill in four months and owes the equivalent of $108, including about $95 for long distance calls.

IN ART AND LEGEND:

The Christmas Story

The nativity—Inside the humble stable, Joseph gathered some of the fragrant hay and made a soft bed in one corner for Mary. She lay down and soon fell asleep in this strange place.

And she brought forth her first-born son.

Joseph had been away from the stable to find light and fuel for the child about to be born. When he returned where Mary was, "behold it was filled with lights, greater than the light of lamps and candles, and greater than the light of the sun itself."

And going fearfully in, he found the Christ child, newborn.

This was the exact moment of ecstasy which mystics aspired to see in their visions — the moment of Christ's birth when Mary and Joseph worshiped the Christ child alone, remote from the earthly world.

In early art, which was intended primarily to teach rather than to please, Christ's birth was presented as a solemn occasion. In much later paintings the scene was more pleasing than instructive, and of ten lost its significance among flowery angels and graceful saints.

But Fra Angelico has caught that moment which the mystics felt. "Verily, though all of a sudden," wrote St. Bridget of her vision of Christ and Mary, "I saw the glorious infant lying on the ground naked and shining. Then I heard also the singing of the angels, which was of miraculous sweetness and great beauty."

And Mary "worshiped him, her head bent down and her hands clasped, with great honor and reverence and said unto Him, Be welcome, my God, my Lord and my Son."

The great artists seemed to know the inside of the stable in Bethlehem as if they had been there themselves.

Vietnamese Students Hit France

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP) — Shouting "down with DeGaulle," thousands of Vietnamese students staged a demonstration in front of the French Embassy here Friday

U.S. sources expressed belief the demonstration was backed by Viet Nam's new military junta to show U.S. Defense Secretary Robert McNamara, who is visiting Saigon, that President Charles de Gaulle's moves for neutralizing Viet Nam are not favored here.

France ruled Indochina until 1954 when the Geneva agreements ended its losing war against the communists and split up the territory.

Talks Opened

McNamara opened talks Thursday with senior U.S. officials. They are expected to urge him to tell the military junta to spend more time on the war with the communists and less on politics.

At least 3,000 students gathered outside the French Embassy and hundreds more marched through Saigon carrying banners attacking neutralism.

In a statement Aug. 29, De Gaulle proposed France's "cordial cooperation" to Viet Nam in shaking off "foreign influences." By implication he criticized American policies and actions.

'54 Agreement Hit

Student speakers criticized the 1954 Geneva agreements and said "France sold us to the communists."

McNamara arrived from Paris at a time when the Viet Cong guerrillas are overrunning Vietnamese military outposts and threatening to bring the war virtually to the gates of Saigon itself.

"If things don't get moving in 90 days we are lost," declared one U.S. official.

And He Still Owes The City A Penny

The practice will probably never replace the city wheel tax, but a motorist here may have enriched the city treasury by the unlikely method of using a gold piece to buy time on a parking meter.

The motorist apparently mistook the gold piece, which has a face value of $2.99, for a penny and used it in a city parking meter.

Thus, he bought six minutes of time for $50 — the coin's collector's value.

City Finance Director James Mallon said the city would gladly return the gold piece to its rightful owner in exchange for one penny rightfully due the city. Proof of prior ownership is a bridge that hasn't yet been crossed.

Sorted Out at Bank

The gold piece was sorted out by a local bank's coin-sorting machine in routine processing of parking meter coins for the city.

While the coin's denominational value is $3, its collector's value is estimated at $50 to $300, depending upon an appraisal determination of its vintage, mint marks and condition.

Occasionally a slug or mutilated coin is "kicked out" by the machine, which also rejected the gold piece, which is similar to a penny.

Mallon said the coin has been kept nearly a year in hopes its owner might realize his error.

If it remains unclaimed for a year or so, Mallon indicated the city would dispose of it as unclaimed or lost property and turn the proceeds in to the city general fund.

7th Fleet Won't Sway Sukarno

. . . IN MALAYSIAN FIGHT

Jakarta, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno declared Thursday not even the presence of the powerful U.S. 7th Fleet in the Indian Ocean can sway him from his course of destroying neighboring Malaysia.

"We will never be afraid of the fleet," he told a rally in Jakarta, referring to press reports that the 7th Fleet soon may expand operations into the Indian Ocean. "Let there be two or three such U.S. fleets. We will continue to crush Malaysia."

The tentative plan to send some 7th Fleet units into the ocean generally is considered as a move to stay Red China's hand if it is plotting a new attack on India. But Indonesians see it as an attempt to make them call off their hostile confrontation of Malaysia. The United States welcomed the creation of British-backed Malaysia.

Don't Know

"Up until now I still don't know whether the (7th) fleet has entered the Indonesian Ocean," Sukarno said. He always calls the Indian Ocean the Indonesian Ocean, as do most of his countrymen.

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, told reporters before leaving New Delhi earlier in the day that no decision has yet been reached. He said if the plan goes into effect, an aircraft carrier and two or three destroyers will be detached from the 7th Fleet for patrol duty in the Indian Ocean.

In Jakarta, Adm. Claude V. Ricketts, vice chief of U.S. naval operations, emphasized there have been no orders from Washington for any fleet movements. Officers of the Indonesian Navy, host to Ricketts, have criticized any move of U.S. warships into the Indian Ocean.

Interfere

Implying that the United States is trying to interfere in Indonesia's affairs, Sukarno referred to U.S. policy in South Viet Nam, Laos, Korea and Cambodia.

"Why have these failures not become a lesson?" he demanded.

Sukarno has pledged repeatedly to destroy the Federation of Malaysia, launched last Sept. 16. He has called it a plot to perpetuate British colonialism in Southeast Asia. The four members, Malaya, Singapore, Sarawak and Sabah, are former British possessions.

As an initial act, Sukarno cut off all trade with Malaysia. Now Indonesian infiltrators are harassing the frontiers of Sarawak and Sabah on the big island of Borneo, most of which belongs to Indonesia.

—CONTEST BOOMERANGS—

Biggest Cookie 2,300-Pounder

St. Paul, Minn. (AP) —Start with a ton of ingredients, add some ingenuity, spice with the lure of cash, mix well and you've got the recipe for the granddaddy of all Christmas cookies.

Paul Goodman, a sophomore at Bethel College, turned the trick with a 2,300-pound wafer that won him $3,749 in a contest sponsored by radio station KDWB.

The station offered $1.63 a pound for the biggest Christmas cookie porduced by a listener. A commerical bakery came up with a 60-pounder, and inmates at the Minnesota reformatory put together a 170-pounder, but they were pikers.

Goodman and some college helpers spent most of Monday and Tuesday turning out 5-pound slabs of cookie—more than 200 of them. Then, they mixed a giant batch of frosting and cemented the whole mass together in the back of a pickup truck.

Goodman, the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Rodger W. Goodman of San Jose, Calif., sold $1 shares to classmates to raise the money for ingredients.

"I got the idea last Thursday night, but my roommate told me to go back to sleep," the youth said. But he didn't.

Neat Profit

He said he planned the share-selling scheme with a promise of double-your-money if he won, or a big party to eat up the cookie if he lost. He's in hock for $450 for ingredients, $255 for stockholder profits, but still can pocket a neat sum to complete his education.

Program director Don French of the radio station said there weren't many entries because word of the 60-pound entry leaked out.

Truck Scale

He said Goodman's entry had to be weighed on a truck scale.

"I must say they were very decent about it," Goodman grinned, "although they acted like the thing sort of boomeranged on them."

Station officials said they had expected a cookie of around 50 pounds to be the winner.

On Display

Goodman's monster cookie is on display at the station's Minneapolis officers, where the curious have pried off a few chunks to taste. It'll go on display at a shopping center next, then be turned over to a charitable institution.

Goodman says he's done a lot of cooking while acting as a guide on canoe trips, but not much previous baking. He plans to go into the Baptist ministry or college teaching.

"We used a mix; it we had had to start from scratch, we'd never have tried it."

Recipe

1,100 pounds of cookie dough mix; 750 pounds of powdered sugar; 175 pounds of shortening; 200 pounds of "other stuff."

The frosting alone weighed about 1,300 pounds.

FAMILY VISITS SET

Trouble-Shooting, Fence-Mending Missions Work On Southeast Asia

Washington (AP) — U.S. military leaders and congressmen are roaming the globe on trouble-shooting, fence-mending and other kinds of missions.

This has been going on a long time but seems to have been intensified of late since President Johnson took office, especially on the most distant of cold war front lines in Southeast Asia.

Broadly, the aim of all these journeys is the same—to strengthen the U.S. position in relation to the nation's Communist antagonists. Nowhere is that antagonism more persistent than in Southeast Asia where Red China pursues its militant policies in complete disregard of the Soviet Union's peaceful coexistence line.

Vary Widely

In some places, friendly nations are worried about the possibility that U.S. forces in their area will be withdrawn. In others, there is concern about the proposed arrival of U.S. forces.

He told Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara to go to South Viet Nam "and look over the situation out there."

McNamara was there Thursday to gather first-hand information on whatever changes in the situation and in military help may have developed out of the change of regimes at Saigon.

McNamara flew to Viet Nam from the NATO ministerial meeting in Paris, where once more he and Secretary of State Dean Rusk assured the NATO allies that U.S. ground combat strength in Germany will remain unchanged.

Coolness

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, was in the Subcontinent of Asia to visit the governments of India and Pakistan, between which there is marked coolness. When he left on Dec. 10, one of his jobs was to quietly sound out the two governments on the idea of rotating U.S. naval task groups into the Indian Ocean for a "show of the flag" and to let Red China know that U.S. power was ready to help if aggression against India or Pakistan was started.

But before Taylor reached his destination, after a stop for the Paris NATO meeting, word leaked out in India. There has been unfavorable public reaction.

In Japan, there is the long-standing question of whether U.S. atomic submarines should be permitted to enter Japanese ports for visits. Many Japanese do not want anything related to nuclear military equipment in their country.

On Itinerary

Japan is one of the places on the long itinerary of another military official, Adm. Claude V. Ricketts, vice chief of naval operations. Officially, Japan was put on his places to call because the Navy has large bases there. But the question of atomic submarine calls and Japanese opinion about them obviously awaited him on arrival.

Five lawmakers from Capitol Hill went to South Korea. The mission of Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., and four House members was ceremonial and sentimental. They went as representatives of Congress to attend the inauguration of President Chung-hee Park as South Korean chief executive. All five, however, are ex-servicemen who fought in the bitter war in Korea a decade ago.

In Korea, they were certain to hear echoes of concern by that government about rumors of cutback for U.S. forces there. The army has two divisions deployed along the truce line, along with South Korea's own forces, facing the constant Red menace from the north.

Arctic Air Hits Most Of Nation

Buffalo, N. Y. (AP)—Blinding, wind-driven snow battered the already hard-hit snowbelt at the eastern end of Lake Erie Thursday, piling drifts up to four feet deep and forcing traffic on a section of the New York State Thruway to move in convoys escorted by snowplows.

Meanwhile, much of the nation was numbed by a blast of Arctic air and deaths attributed to the severe weather totaled 19.

Closed

A 66-mile stretch of the thruway from Lackawanna, south of Buffalo, to the Pennsylvania state line was closed for about five hours because of zero visibility.

When traffic did begin moving, state police organized waiting automobiles and trucks into the convoys. One group of 140 vehicles moved eastward from the Pennsylvania line behind three giant snowplows. About the same time, approximately 100 trucks started west from Lackawanna.

Midway the plows switched from the eastbound to the westbound convoy, to guide the vehicles through the worst part.

Worse Than Fog

A storm left 14 inches of snow on Nantucket Island off the Massachusetts coast and 9 inches on Falmouth on Cape Cod. Many schools suspended classes.

A record December snowfall ended in Muskegon, Mich. leaving 33 inches of snow on the ground. Wind-fanned snow reduced visibility along the Michigan shore from Holland to Benton Harbor.

Charge Sullen Part-Time Student With Threatening Kennedy's Life

Fort Worth, Tex. (AP) — A sullen part-time college student, quoted by the Secret Service as saying he was "proud—no, glad" that an assassin killed President John F. Kennedy, was charged Thursday with threatening Kennedy's life.

The youth, Russell W. McLarry, 21, sat poker faced as he was arraigned, ordered held for the grand jury, and placed under $2,500 bond.

McLarry is a night student at Arlington State College, where bitterly anti-Kennedy literature was found the morning before Kennedy was shot Nov. 22 in Dallas.

The complaint, filed by the Secret Service, charges that:

"On Nov. 21 he (McLarry) made certain threats to take the life of and to inflict bodily harm upon John F. Kennedy, then the president of the United States, by stating in substance that he would be working near the Trade Mart in Dallas, Texas, where the President was supposed to speak, and that he would be waiting with a gun to get the President."

The Trade Mart is about three miles from the spot in Dallas where Kennedy was hit by two bullets fired from the sixth floor of the Texas School Book Depository building.

Preliminary

McLarry asked for a preliminary hearing and was granted one before U.S. Commissioner Bill Atkins shortly after his arrest.

Charles E. Kunkel, Secret Service special agent, testified before the commissioner that McLarry told him that, "He was not sorry the President was killed. He said he was proud — no, glad — that the President had been killed."

Kunkel testified that McLarry said, "The President was responsible for the condition this country is in."

McLarry himself told the commissioner, "I don't remember exactly what I said. The statement I made was a joke. If I can be tried for a joke and found guilty — well, that's the extent of it."

RUSSELL McLARRY . . . 'made threat'.

He was asked if he was on the job when the President was assassinated.

Can't Make It

When Atkins set bond at $2,500, McLarry commented: "I can't make it. I couldn't make $100 (bond), much less $2,500."

The case will go before the federal grand jury in Amarillo, Tex., Jan. 6, said Bill Hughes, chief assistant U.S. attorney for the criminal division of the northern district of Texas.

Maximum penalty if convicted is five years in prison and $1,000 fine.

PRESENT FOR SANTA

Springfield, Mo. (AP)—A pretty little girl jumped up on the lap of a department store Santa Claus and gave him a pre-Christmas hug.

She rubbed her rosy cheeks against his snow-white whiskers and then whispered into his ear: "Know what I got?"

"No," said Santa, David Serrell, a student at Central Bible Institute here.

"The mumps," said the little girl.

But Nehawka Goes Modern

Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Nehawka — Log cabin, fireplace, books and lots of little Abes—but it's also the library with a brand new battery clock.

A main-street project of the Federated Woman's Club some three decades ago, the rustic native-log library has inspired many a comment through the years.

Never Visited

"I don't believe he was ever inside our library," said Mrs. George C. Sheldon, "so we were as surprised as we were pleased with the remembrance."

Mrs. Sheldon heads a seven-member FWC board which alternate serving as librarians. Others include Mrs. William Ost, Mrs. Frank Lemon, Mrs. Harvey Barkhurst, Evelyn Wolph, Mrs. F. O. Sand and Mrs. Emma Nutzman.

The money permitted making several other minor refinements, such as cataloguing the more than 2,000 volumes owned.

The transistorized clock — sort of a symbol of modernism meeting the rustic—went over the fireplace.

His Own Home Town Hardest To Impress

DAVID . . . Tops in U.S.

From Press Report

Lewellen — A 17-year-old Nebraska farm youth was named America's safest teen-age driver, and was awarded a $5,000 birthday present.

David C. Rohlfing, a junior at Lewellen Rural High School won the $5,000 scholarship to any college as first prize in a National Driver Award program sponsored by Prestone Anti-Freeze.

The award was made Thursday, on his 17th birthday.

He competed against 30,000 other teenagers in 29 states and the District of Columbia on the basis of an examination given in the schools. The test measured driving attitudes as well as knowledge of cars and safety rules.

David, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rohlfing, lives on a farm near Lewellen, is a licensed driver and owns his own car.

An excellent student, his lowest grade in school last year was a 92 — in driver education.

He took his driver education course the first year it was offered at the rural high school. Before the course, his only driving experience had been on a tractor on his parents' farm.

Gugas On Way Out; Mayor Dworak Recall Considered

Omaha (AP) — Omaha Public Safety Director Chris Gugas, after a stormy year and a half in office, appeared Thursday to be on his way out.

City Councilmen Al Veys and H. F. Jacobberger said Gugas will resign or be ousted by Jan. 15. Jacobberger confirmed an ultimatum has been given Mayor James Dworak.

"Gugas can no longer effectively carry out the duties of public office," Jacobberger said.

Jacobberger said he told Dworak, now in a hospital recovering from a back operation, that if Gugas did not quit by Jan. 1 a resolution would be offered in the council to fire the safety director.

In another development City Councilman Ernest Adams said he was considering—and he stressed that he was only "considering" — proposing a recall election for Mayor James J. Dworak.

"I'm not for Public Safety Director Chris Gugas," Adams said. "But on the other hand let's be fair. Gugas has been nominated for the whipping boy since he got to town. I say, let's not make him the sole whipping boy."

Adams said he was not in the group of councilmen who gave Mayor Dworak the "fire Gugas" ultimatum.

If a recall election were held the voters would say "yes" or "no" on whether a man should be kept in office. Should the "no" vote prevail, the council would fill the vacancy.

The next regular city election is in the spring of 1965.

Nebraska's Winter Wheat Crop Estimate Is 71.9 Million Bushels

From Press Reports

The U.S. Department of Agriculture forecast Thursday a 1964 winter wheat crop in Nebraska of 71,896,000 bushels.

That would compare with 63,490,000 bushels harvested this year.

Government crop men said the larger 1964 crop would be taken from 3,268,000 acres, two per cent less than the acreage seeded for the 1963 crop.

Even a crop of the size forecast Thursday would be under the 1957 to 1961 average of nearly 85 million bushels.

The forecast was based on condition prevailing Dec. 1 and other factors.

The department predicted Nebraskans would seed 315,000 acres to rye, an increase of five per cent over last year's acreage.

The estimate for the 1964 Nebraska winter wheat crop was limited by low moisture conditions during October and November, State-Federal Agricultural Statistician Ken Logan said.

The estimate of 71,896,000 bushels is up 8,406,000 bushels from 1963 but down 7,962,000 bushels from the five-year 1958-62) average of 79,858,000 bushels.

Logan said total seeded acreage for 1964 was down slightly from the 3,335,000 acres seeded in 1963.

Logan said recent snows should help to replenish the soil moisture supply.

GOD IS EVERYWHERE . . . ALMOST

Nebraska City (UPI) — An eight-year-old Nebraska City miss warmed the hearts of a district court jury, a judge, attorneys and spectators when she was questioned in Otoe County District Court.

Conda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Cutler, was questioned on whether she knew the meaning of the oath given prior to testifying.

Conda is the plaintiff in a $25,000 damage case. She sustained a broken leg when her bicycle was hit by a car.

Judge John M. Dierks asked:

"Do you know the meaning of telling the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, so help you God?"

"Yes," Conda replied.

"What does it mean?"

"That you must not tell a lie."

"What happens if you tell a lie?"

"You go to jail," Conda said.

"Do you believe in God?" the judge asked.

"Yes."

"Is He here in this room?"

"Maybe," Conda replied.

Curtis, Hruska Oppose Aid Bill

Washington (AP)—Sens. Carl Curtis and Roman Hruska of Nebraska voted with the minority Thursday when the Senate passed $3.3 billion foreign aid bill, by a 60-25 vote.

Sens. Curtis and Hruska also were with the minority when the Senate voted, 52-32, to delete from the bill a ban against government guarantees for financing wheat sales to Russia.

The two Nebraska senators also were with the minority when the Senate rejected, 55-31, a motion to cut the $3.3 billion foreign aid figures to $3 billion.

Paper Interest Sold By Falloon

Falls City (AP)—Former District Judge Virgil Falloon has sold his stock in the Journal Publishing Company, which publishes the Falls City Journal, to C. R. James, general manager of the Falls City Creamery Co.

James will not be active in the newspaper business.

Judge Falloon had been a stockholder in the company since the present corporation was formed in 1929. Prior to 1929, he was the sole owner of the paper.

Summary Of Conditions

A persistent, large and elongated arctic high pressure ridge extends from the Yukon area of northwestern Canada down into eastern North Dakota, through western Iowa, down into southern Missouri, and the arctic air covers the plains from the Dakotas down into northern Oklahoma and is spread out over the upper Mississippi Valley and upper Ohio Valley.

Cloud cover is extensive for Nebraska and western Iowa. Upslope winds with this set-up causes light snows in western Nebraska, but amounts are light. Indication is that because the snow cover is quite extensive over the area, this persistent ridge is going to be hard to dislodge, particularly in eastern Nebraska and Iowa.

A low pressure area appears to be going to break off from a Pacific frontal system off the northern California and southern Oregon coasts and should move into southern Idaho by Friday night and across the mountains by Saturday.

On Saturday this frontal movement should cause the arctic air boundary to move eastward and cause some moderate temperatures in western Nebraska Saturday.

At the same time overruning moisture from this low system over our cold air in central and eastern Nebraska should cause some snow in much of Nebraska Saturday, but amounts will very likely be light because the Gulf, it appears, will be unable to send moisture northward.

Car-Train Crash North Of Fremont Kills Youth, 18

Carol D. Jahns, an 18-year-old Nickerson boy, was killed Thursday afternoon when the eastbound car in which he was a passenger collided with a northeast-bound Burlington freight train, about two miles north of Fremont on a county road.

The driver, Bob C. Kruger, 39, of Rt. 1, Fremont, was not injured. The train's engineer was Ed Pierce of Sioux City, Iowa.

NO. PLATTE BOND ISSUES VOTE SET

North Platte (AP) — The City Council has given the go-head for an April 7 vote on civic auditorium and public library bond issues.

Extortion Try Nets Arrest

Omaha (UPI) — A 29-year-old Creston father of five is under federal arrest on a charge of attempting to extort money from a Creston, Iowa, woman.

Charles H. DeFord, special agent in charge of the Omaha division of the FBI, said the prisoner was Harlan Michael Forkner.

Forkner was arrested by FBI agents as he picked up a package of money from the woman's car, parked by prearranged instruction in downtown Creston.

DeFord said Forkner had threatened harm to the woman's children in a letter. He demanded a sum of money, the FBI said. Other details of the alleged attempt were not given.

He was charged with the federal crime of extortion.

First Woman Lawyer In Nebraska Is Dead

Omaha (AP) — Funeral services will be held Saturday for Mrs. Josephine Wild, 84, Nebraska's first woman attorney.

Mrs. Wild died in a hospital Wednesday night.

She was the widow of Dr. William F. Wild of Omaha.

Mrs. Wild was assistant to the Attorney General many years ago.

Hastings Has Banner Library Year

Hastings (AP) — Hastings in 1963 probably experienced what no other city, large or small, in the United States has ever realized.

The citizens saw the dedication of two libraries—one municipal and the other the property of Hastings College. Each cost in excess of $300,000.

One is in the downtown business district, the other is in the eastern section of the city.

100,000 Books

They are both the most modern of structures and each contains in excess of 50,000 volumes. The people of Hastings voted bonds for the municipal building, the other was a gift to the college.

The city holds the distinction of being the first community in Nebraska to vote general obligation bonds for a public library.

The completion of the two libraries climaxed a big construction year for the county seat of Adams county. It was not a record year, but it was near a record.

Other Growth

Two modern bank buildings, one national, the other state, were completed during 1963. This increased to three the number of banks in the city.

A new $1,300,000 courthouse is under construction and nearing completion. It is contemplated that it will be finished and put into use before next summer.

A new supermarket was started, an all-purpose store with an estimated 50,000 square feet of floor space was begun and a new general merchandise store with 27,000 square feet of space was completed and put into use.

The City Council, through rezoning, cleared the way for start in 1964 of a planned shopping center and cattle slaughtering plant.

Traffic Laws Make Sense

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Mayor Dean Petersen's order for strict enforcement of two traffic laws may bring some initial grumbling but they are, nevertheless, improvements in our situation. The laws are aimed at ending jaywalking and at giving pedestrians in crosswalks the right-of-way. If you look at the word "jaywalking," you know that it is a practice that should be eliminated. "Jay" is a slang word meaning a stupid person, a "jaywalking" means someone walking in a word meaning a stupid person, so "jay-

An Earlier Era

Specifically, they are walking without regard for traffic laws and/or signals and that is stupid. It may be convenient but it is still stupid, just as the word conveys. "Stupid" being such an insulting word, we know that no one would want to be known as a jaywalker. They do jaywalk now and then, though, out of habit and out of carelessness. Both jaywalking and cars rather than pedestrians with the right-of-way are products of a horse-and-buggy era. There was a day when traffic was so insignificant that it interfered but little with the pedestrians' desire to go from one place to another at just about any location that suited them.

Such, however, is not the case today. With many streets carrying four moving lanes of traffic, the jaywalker is really taking his life into his own hands. It looks safe to cross in the middle of the block but it really isn't. If you should fall, for instance, you could be almost instantly killed. And with the volume of traffic there is, you might easily fail to see an oncoming vehicle.

Also, cars today move at a faster pace than was the case a few years ago. A car today may be a block away but it can travel that block much more quickly than you can get across one of Lincoln's wide streets. Even from a standing start, the average car can reach high speeds in the short distance of one block. And the higher the speed, of course, the longer the stopping distance.

In time and with enforcement, the jaywalking problem will cease to exist but the pedestrian right-of-way will be something more difficult to establish. Even school crossings are still often violated and this has been hammered into drivers' heads for as long as we can remember. The idea is that the driver should stop if a pedestrian is in the crosswalk and about to cross the street. With little school children, and sometimes with high schoolers, the situation can be an exasperating one. Such pedestrians can be right at the curb in a crosswalk and have every appearance of wanting to cross the street. So, the driver stops to allow the child to go on his way. But many times, the child will simply stand there for some unknown reason.

Other times, the child will cross but does so in such a manner as to frustrate the motorist, particularly if he is in a hurry to get some place. Children can cross the streets in the most leisurely manner you can imagine. Usually they cross in groups and are laughing and visiting as they walk along. About halfway across the street, they are likely to stop and wait for someone behind to catch up, to look at something that has caught their fancy or just for the heck of it. The best treatment for your nerves in this case is to enjoy the situation.

If you have 10 minutes to make a 15-minute trip, such enjoyment may be hard to come by but there isn't much else you can do about it all if you wanted to. And children walking to school can be entertaining. It can be well below zero and they will walk along as though it were a balmy spring day. Some will have their coats open or gloves off and you can speculate on the dickens they would get if their mothers could see them.

The girls will be pretty well behaved but the boys are likely to be kicking at one another, hitting each other in the head, throwing snowballs or sticks, playing tag, kicking something along in front of them, swinging on a tree they pass underneath, walking the curb or engaged in any number of other diversions. It is just more than they can do to walk along in a normal manner, particularly with a friend.

And you might keep in mind that they are the future of the world and maybe entitled to what little tolerance we can show them in their pursuit of happiness. You were one yourself some years ago and there was a driver then who waited for you and a neighbor's tree disfigured when you swung on a branch too small to support you. With adult pedestrians, it is only common courtesy that they be given the right-of-way. It has always baffled us to watch people waiting at the curb in the dead of winter to cross a street while the car goes whizzing by, the driver sitting complacently behind the wheel of his well-heated and comfortable vehicle.

Pedestrian's Right

It will take time for drivers to adjust to the pedestrian right-of-way law but it is a good one, just the same. Probably a lot of traffic tickets will be passed out to violators and they won't like this but Lincoln will be a nicer city in which to live as a result of the change.

The Hardup United Nations

In terms of achievement the United Nations has been a great success. It serves as a bridge over which nations can communicate short of war. It can enforce disciplines as a neutral in hot areas where direct national action could not be tolerated. It aims truly toward a better world where bearing and forebearing may one day replace war.

But like many noble causes the UN has little facility in the area of balanced budgets.

It is in the red again. Its year end operating statement shows resources of $38.5 million. Its 1963 unpaid bills amount to $172.7 million. This means its budget is out of balance by $134.2 million.

What is the cause of this?

Well, the communist nations and some western nations will not pay the special assessments for UN peace keeping in the Congo and in the Near East. They are either out of sympathy with such action or feel that their selfish interests would be better served if the UN stayed out of those troubled places.

There are also 113 nations now in the UN, some of which are so hard up they don't pay their dues.

There is the dilemma. A United Nations is not in character if it excludes all but the few prosperous nations. And since it is a voluntary, democratic organization it can't commit suicide by kicking out the self-centered nations which are determined not to support any action not in their favor.

The alternatives are hard. But it does seem fair to exclude from voting those nation which are habitually freeloading. There is no reason why they shouldn't have as much character in their pocketbooks as in their hearts.

Power Problems Multiply

Time has not proven to be much of a benefactor in the matter of the electric power problems of the state of Nebraska. It is time, in fact, that is presenting us today with one of our more pressing conflicts. While the state foresees a shortage of power in the very near future, it cannot zero in on any new source of supply.

This is because the state can obtain nothing from the Bureau of Reclamation as to the allocation Nebraska will receive from additional power to become available from Missouri River generation projects. Quite naturally, the state is interested in getting as much bureau power as possible since it is the cheapest.

On the other hand, the state cannot wait too long on the assumption of obtaining bureau power before it must provide for itself. If we delay construction of our own generation facilities and then end up with an inadequate allocation from the bureau, we would face a power shortage and an economic loss in many areas.

The bureau is subject to criticism for its handling of the situation and the uncertainty in which it leaves the state. The bureau obviously feels little motivation to cooperate with Nebraska since this state is not oriented toward the political philosophy on which the bureau is founded.

This may be an excuse for bureau indifference to Nebraska but it is not a valid reason for the bureau's refusal to cooperate. The bureau is placing the state in an impossible situation in which the people of Nebraska can only come out losers. It may be politically satisfying to the bureau but it is a public disservice unworthy of that agency.

Nothing To Gain

The Reds have knocked a few holes in their notorious Berlin wall. They have established five check points and are ready to admit properly registered West Berliners into East Berlin for the Christmas holiday.

Many doubt that the spirit of Christmas has made putty out of the hearts of the communist leaders. They prefer to believe that the Reds are working an angle, picking up some trading stock, or looking forward to the recognition of the East German government. That is not an unreasonable assumption. But it is not a formidable prospect.

The thousands of West Germans expecting to cross the line are not planning to nestle up to communism. They are going to East Berlin to see friends and relatives who are Germans. On other days they are denied that privilege because of communism. They are not forgetting that either. As Germans they are doubtless looking hopefully toward the day when all Germany is reunited. But it is equally true that their vision of reunion is a vision of German sovereignty. If they had wanted reunion badly enough to accept it under communist terms they would have crossed the line long since.

This crossing the line did take place, but from East to West. That was the reason for the wall. The wall, itself, is a confession by the Reds of a lost cause. It is reaffirmed by the fact that while the West Germans may cross into East Berlin, East Germans are not being permitted to cross into West Berlin.

Out of all this it is hard to make a very strong case for subtle communist maneuver. Better to say that the brief visitation will bring some happiness to the hearts of the German people. For that it is a good arrangement.

LBJ Asks Humphrey For Wheat Program

WASHINGTON — Last Saturday, a day which is a holiday for organized labor and most government officials, Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, the Democratic whip, got a call at home.

"What're you doing at home?" asked a familiar voice. "I thought you'd be in Tokyo or Tel Aviv."

It was the President of the United States.

"I want your ideas on wheat," President Johnson continued, "and I need 'em by 3:30 tomorrow afternoon."

He went on to give some of his own ideas on wheat legislation, and asked the senator for his. Humphrey had introduced a wheat bill, following the Farm Bureau-led revolt of wheat farmers against the Kennedy-Freeman wheat program last May.

Next day was Sunday and, the wheat problem being an intricate one, Sen. Humphrey did not deliver his ideas to the White House by 3:30. Promptly at 3:30 he got another phone call.

"Where's that wheat program of yours?" asked the President of the United States.

Humphrey had worked most of the day and part of the night. Finally he got a wheat program over to the White House. In broad outline his plan calls for voluntary controls and for price supports for farmers accepting these controls.

The new President is operating with deft sureness when it comes to domestic legialation. He watches his old friends in Congress with the efficient concern of a hen piloting an unruly flock of chicks through a tomato patch. He has more legislative know-how than any other president in this century.

On foreign policy, however, Johnson is inclined to ok position papers too rapidly. Lyndon is accustomed to fast action; so when an adviser puts a policy outline in front of him and it sounds reasonable, he approves it.

This was the inside reason why the new President got himself and the nation in the position of throwing away his ace cards just before he sits down at his Texas ranch after Christmas with the new chancellor of Germany, Ludwig Erhard.

What Johnson did was to ok a pledge to keep six U.S. divisions in Europe chiefly in Germany.

By so doing, Johnson tossed away his power to bargain effectively over German tariffs against U.S. chickens, discrimination against other American farm products, the drain on the dollar, and expecially adjustments with Russia to ease the cold war.

Senate Contrite; House Is Defiant

WASHINGTON—A veteran congressman surveyed the House as I sought to clean up at least a few chores before Christmas and revealed his considered opinion that "a rattlesnake would have to fight his way up that center aisle."

He was describing a defiant mood rather than a specific contest. All of Congress has been criticized for its no-saying, its infinite delays, its shabby scandals, its indifference to internal reform.

The Senate is not happy about it, but a spirit of willingness to try again and seek change is evident. The House, in contrast, is bitter and obsessed. From the speaker to the subcommittee chairman, it is defensively proclaiming its eternal rightness, its defiance of critic and questioner.

A small issue shows how harshly it is prepared to treat the rare few of its own members who support the critics.

Rep. Arnold Olsen, a Democrat now in his second term, is from Montana, which is showing a marked conservative trend. Both he and Senate Leader Mike Mansfield face hard fights there for re-election next fall.

It was doubtless too much to expect that Olsen could get the House in its present temper to approve the Knowles Power which, he argued, would relieve economic stringencies in Montana. He did have the right to think that his fellow-Democrats, with their 3-2 majority, and their leaders would help him make a showing.

What he got was 41 votes out of 370 present and voting. His crime: he is a member of the Democratic study group which supports internal reform of the House.

Such jettisoning of the normal custom whereby members help a fellow member of their party to look good, or even cross party lines in a bow to a well-liked congressman, may be only a passing mood. If it is not, the prospect for a record President Johnson can run on next fall is dim indeed.

Advocates of civil rights and tax cuts are certain to return to the arena with renewed energy next year. Powerful voices with convictions about the unsatisfactory state of the presidential succession and the dead hand of seniority will not be cured of their beliefs by mere defiance.

President Johnson may be able to take the House and Senate along with him, but he will be unable by reason of his own political necessities to go along with them either. Republicans, whatever their own contributions to his difficulties, can be expected to campaign harshly against his failures.

Unless a very substantial change of temper prevails fairly soon in the next session, the President will need to contemplate some changes of his own. He was a masterful parliamentary leader with a moderate president of the opposite party in office. The task of being an effective President himself, with his own party heavily in control of the legislative branch, is something else again.

One thing Helen Lough of the Albion News needs to do yet is to dash out and select ye olde evergreen tree for the family home. Her editor-husband, Jack, favors an aluminum substitute with the sales pitch about the bother of decorating and needle sweeping. But she still likes the real thing, even though expensive, messy and lopsided. "It smells good . . . and is very satisfying to behold on Christmas Eve in all its glory, lopsided or not. And, above all, it's fun!"

The Garden County News at Oshkosh has heard of spray painting tumbleweeds and producing something quite eye-catching by way of holiday adornment.

It offers a yardful of the basic material to anyone so artistically inclined who will come and fetch them . . .

Kerry Leggett of the Ord Quiz is not in favor of the pre-Christmas frenzy to the extent that it swamps our minds and we become so engulfed that we bypass the friendship we should now be sharing. Most of all, he misses an old institution that seems to be passing from the scene—the carolers.

Even the getting together to sing, at all, is apparently on its way out. It used to be, he says, that one of the nicest parts of press meetings was that time of the evening spent warbling away in something less than close harmony.

He is at a loss to explain the fading popularity of the community sing, proposes they have one in Ord—not the professional type and not the church choir type—but that good old "someone's in the kitchen with Dinah" type thing.

A Bertrand Herald writer, on the other hand, thinks the bustle and hustle of preparing for the day is half the fun of Christmas. "Like many things, the anticipation is the best part of the season. Maybe this is a carry-over from childhood, but I still am much a child at heart."

It may be true, he concedes, that commercialism of the season is overdone. It is also true that the true spirit is there for the looking.

"If we are looking for the sordid, it can be found. It we are looking for the wonderful and beautiful, that, too, can be found . . ."

Cary Reynolds, recalling Yuletide customs of yesteryear, describes in the Curtis Enterprise the delivery horse and wagon that each store had for the distribution of gift purchases.

The horses wore strings of sleigh bells and a local merchant still has a set that he once used.

"Beautiful music," Mrs. Reynolds remembers, "for Christmas-tuned ears."

The ladies of Scotia's Women's Club each went home from a recent meeting with a trayful of cookies and candy and the recipes for all the luscious edibles. Mrs. M. G. Williams of the Register says her problem is "sampling each one while they are still fresh so I'll know which ones my family will especially enjoy."

And the next step is baking up more batches of the favorites.

"The trouble is that it takes a lot of sampling to be sure all these goodies are worth giving! Oh, well, I'll go on a diet after Christmas—maybe."

Curtis merchants have added something new this year that wives may regard a bit dubiously. They have proclaimed one shopping night as "Stag Night" and all male shoppers are supposed to go—alone—to take care of all their gift-buying at that time.

A custom began in the Joe Heitz household at Schuyler several years ago, and has grown into something that sounds completely delightful. It was only a taffy pull in the beginning, but other candy-making was added and then cookie-baking and popcorn-ball-making and now it even includes a supper of pancakes and sausage "served on a come-as-you-are basis."

At this mouth-watering point, we wish that Schuyler were a little closer to Lincoln . . .

Cry Of Freedom

Anselmo, Neb.

Charles B. Shuman is against all other farm organizations and will not cooperate with any of them. Giving the farmers freedom is all he shouts about. Just let the farmers raise all they can, he says, and take whatever is offered them. All other segments of business and labor set their prices and farmers must pay such prices, but when the NFO planned on holding grain for a fair price, Shuman called that an outrage. So what does he mean by freedom"?

Mr. Shuman is like some who are against any foreign aid. It is strange how he fools so many farmers by shouting "freedom." Some are waking up to what the Farm Bureau is doing to them, and dropping out. One farmer said he joined any farm organization, and had supposed that the Farm Bureau worked with the others.

Insurance Laws

Lincoln, Neb.

I read that someone had said that insurance companies consider this state to have a "favorable insurance climate." What this means is that the insurance companies can get away with almost anything in Nebraska, as our laws here don't have any teeth in them.

People in this state pay a high premium on any insurance that they carry, but if one has occasion to collect on his policy, he finds out in many cases that he will be cancelled out, even after carrying such insurance for 20 years.

If the governor and our law-makers want to do something worthwhile for the people of this state, why don't they do something about our laws regulating insurance practices?

The Tensions

Lincoln, Neb.

I was very glad to see The Star editorial, "Advice To Nikita," which expressed many of the ideas which I also believe. That is the main thing—the weakest spot in communism.

Quite recently Kenya and Zanzibar got their independence in the Black Continent. There are many speeches these days about easing the tensions between East and West. We can't forget that so many countries are enslaved in the Soviet bloc. Take, for instance, the Baltic nations of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania. They lost their independence and are longing for freedom. And they belong to the White Continent, the cradle of civilization and culture.

Need Is Great

Fremont, Neb.

This is not for the purpose of discrediting the humanitarian work being done at Boys Town, Nebraska. However, one cannot but wonder if the hundreds of thousands of Protestants who contribute funds each year to the support of this Roman Catholic home for boys realize that in the same city there are two Protestant-sponsored institutions for homeless children. They are the Omaha Home for Boys located at 52nd and Ames and the Uta Halee Home for Girls at 10625, Calhoun Road, Box 34, Florence Station, Omaha.

The Omaha Home for Boys was founded for the care, rearing and training of orphaned, neglected and delinquent or underprivileged boys, regardless of race or creed, so that they may grow up to manhood in healthful and wholesome environments. It is a nonprofit, charitable Nebraska corporation supported entirely by voluntary gifts.

The boys go to public grade and high schools and every Sunday attend the church of their own choice.

The girls at Uta Halee have similar advantages. They, as well as the boys, need shelter and care.

Both homes offer a hope for the future for young girls and boys who are victims of broken homes or family problems. These homes have not enjoyed national publicity and their need is as great.

BUREAUCRATS HIT BY ECONOMY PUSH

. . . Status Symbols Cut

Washington (AP) — President Johnson's economy drive hit the bureaucrats Thursday where it hurts most—right in the status symbols.

The Budget Bureau issued orders cutting by 75% the number of chauffeured limousines and other luxury vehicles used by government officials here and around the world.

When the dust settles and the screams subside, only 20 official limousines and no heavy sedans will be plying the broad avenues of Washington. There are now 131 bearing the top hands of the executive agencies.

Difference

The main difference between a limousine and the big black gas-eater classed as "heavy sedan" is a window between passenger and chauffeur.

The order restricts three types of cars rated by the bureau as luxury vehicles—limousines, heavy sedans and medium sedans. There are now 491 of them around the world. When the order is in full effect there will be 136.

The officials who lose their claim on the prestige cars will get light sedans, on which Congress has imposed a price limit of $1,500. The government can get a lot more car for $1,500 than you can.

Not Covered

Congress is not covered and the White House is excluded under a clause exempting "vehicles used for the protection of the President."

Congress is quite liberal with gratis cars for the official use of officers and aides of the Senate and House, but Congress writes its own budget rules. Even Bobby Baker, the secretary of the Senate's Democratic majority who quit under investigation, had a car provided.

No chauffeur, however.

Ten of the 20 permitted limousines will be stabled at the Pentagon. The others will be distributed among the civilian cabinet-rank departments.

The State Department will get two limousines, the other eight major departments only one apiece. This discrimination, giving diplomacy twice the status of other public service, was not explained.

The Pentagon gets half the limousines not because it spends half the taxpayers' money, says the Budget Bureau, but because it abounds in brass. It has a secretary and deputy secretary of defense, secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force, and the chairman and four members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Elsewhere there will be howls of protest, for bureaucrats tend to be jealous of such prerogatives as size of office, color of rug and shape of water jug—all carefully graduated by rank and salary level.

Leave Caddy

Veteran budgetmakers recall that a minor agency head once pleaded, during a similar clampdown on spending: "Take my big office and my red rug, but leave me my Cadillac."

The law specifies these top prices for luxury vehicles: limousines, $8,600; heavy sedans, $5,000; medium sedans, $3,000. But auto manufacturers who love to see their cars in newspaper pictures and on television are usually happy to slash the price for cars used by bigwigs.

The new restrictions are not based on price but on weight, wheelbase and other specifications set by the General Services Administration.

GERDES FILES FOR 4TH TERM

Alliance (AP)— State Sen. George Gerdes of Alliance filed Thursday for re-election to the Legislature. He will run in the new 49th District composed of Box Butte, Dawes and Sioux Counties. Gerdes has served three two-year terms and next year will be seeking a 4-year term.

8 Named To Committee On City-County Unity

Appointment of an eight-member citizens committee to re-evaluate possible areas of joint cooperation between city and county functions was jointly announced Thursday by Mayor Dean Petersen and County Board Chairman Ralph Harlan.

The re-evaluation is to be made in connection with the proposed new city-county building on which a 1964 vote has been indicated.

Mrs. James Arnot, president of the League of Women Voters.

Harley Bair, manufacturer.

Earl Carter, lumberman.

Robert Guenzel, attorney.

Phil Sidles, savings and loan executive.

Ervin Williams of Firth, farmer.

Any recommendations or findings by the committee on possible consolidations of governmental functions in the new city-county building will go directly to the City Council and County Board, Petersen and Harlan said.

The committee was given no specific time to complete its study, but it is expected to organize and select a chairman after Jan. 1.

Petersen and Harlan said the study "is to eliminate duplication of mechanical operations and the two units of government will remain separate."

Two of the members have been active on the city-county building issue. Barney is chairman of the City-County Building Authority while Guenzel is active as a citizen and chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee on governmental affairs.

Guenzel recently urged the study on what functions might be consolidated prior to any city-county building vote.

Advisory

The committee will be advisory and reportedly has the approval of the council and county board.

Location of the building and efficiency through joint cooperation of the two governments are anticipated as the two key issues.

Mayor Petersen has said he hopes the issue can go on the May ballot.

It Sure Beats Climbing Trees

A City Park Department tree-trimming crew began using a hydraulic-lift aerial tower Friday. They will use this demonstrator to gain operating experience until the two towers recently purchased for $22,223 by the city are delivered about Feb. 1. City Forester Don Guinan says a two-man crew with a tower can exceed the work done by a regular five-man crew using ropes and ladders. Robert Andrews and Victor Dolberg (in the lift's bucket) are operating the tower near Cotner and 48th. (Star Photo.)

Expanded Legal Help Urged

. . . BY COMMUNITY COUNCIL

A committee report urging expansion of legal aid services was approved by the Lincoln Community Council Thursday after a recommendation for staff expansion was changed.

The legal aid study committee had recommended that a full-time attorney and secretary be retained. The board of the Community Council changed the section to recommend retaining present part-time services and that "consideration be made to moving toward hiring a full-time attorney and secretary."

The Legal Aid Bureau, supported by the Bar Association and Community Chest, is located in the University of Nebraska Law College building and is now open only three hours each of two afternoons a week.

A part-time direcor, who is an attorney, refers cases to local attorneys for services.

Criminal Cases Too

The committee also recommended that a legal aid corporation be set up with a governing board and that criminal matters, not now accepted by the bureau, "generally . . . should be accepted" although the board might determine that some kinds of criminal cases should not be accepted.

The committee suggested that Penitentiary inmate cases should "generally" not be accepted, that uniform records be kept of cases, and that a public relations program "to interpret legal aid to the community" and communication channels with referral agencies should be set up.

The report estimated that if sufficient funds and full-time staff were available, the Legal Aid Bureau would serve approximately 700 to 800 cases per year.

Sent to Bar

The recommendations as accepted by the Community Council will be forwarded to the Lincoln Bar Association.

The Legal Aid Bureau, established in 1948 at the University, provides legal assistance to persons who cannot pay a lawyer for services.

Some Berliners Jump Gun On Holiday Visits

Berlin (AP) — The great Christmas reunion of Berlin families separated for more than two years by the Red wall began Thursday.

Loaded with festively packed gifts, and armed with precious permits allowing a one-day visit, people moved through gaps in the wall to bring Christmas cheer to relatives they had not seen in 28 months.

There was, for example, Peter Klaus, 28, a clothing designer. Clutching boxes of candy, a bag of fruit (very scarce in the East), coffee and a bottle of liquor, he set off to see his grandparents, Fritz and Anna Klaus, both in their 80s.

Get Him Pass

Although the operation does not officially begin until Friday East German guards on the Oberbaum Bridge smilingly let him pass.

Thursday it was just a trickle of joyful people—maybe not more than 40. They had to be back in the West by midnight, like so many Cinderellas.

Friday a gigantic human flood of tens of thousands will begin.

Taken Aback

The official regulation was that the first permits would be valid only Friday at 7 a.m. West Berlin police were taken aback at the sudden appearance of border crossers Thursday afternoon. But they did not hinder them.

Questioned, the official East German news agency, ADN, said the report people were crossing was incorrect, possibly a mixup over people unconnected with the Christmas reunion.

But the Eastern guards accepted the permits the West Berliners cheerfully waved. Some persons said they had especially asked for permits dated Thursday although they knew they would not get them until afternoon, thus cutting short their visiting time.

Stranded And Broke, Family Helped By City Police Officer

A 27-year-old St. Joseph, Mo., man, who with his wife and three small children was stranded in Lincoln, out of gasoline and penniless, turned to the Lincoln Police Department and found a friend.

Officer Don Robbins, a beat-patrolman, said the man approached him on the street and told him he was in trouble and needed help.

He led the officer to his car, parked near 10th and N. The car was out of gasoline.

Car Trouble

The man explained that the family was returning to St. Joseph from North Dakota, had experienced car trouble and due to the cost of repairs was completely out of money.

Robbins took the cold, hungry travelers into a liquor store at 10th and N where they were given coffee and food.

Robbins then left in search of help. The owner of a tavern at 9th and O offered to give the family some money and the officer matched that amount out of his own pocket.

Food And Gas

The officer said when the family left town they had a full tank of gasoline and money enough for food on the remainder of their journey.

Chief of Police Joseph T. Carroll said it is not unusual for officers to find people in destitute circumstances. "We always make it a point to see that they don't go hungry," he said.

"It is not at all unusual for people to voluntarily come to the station with no place to go. We give them a place to sleep and a free meal and then release them in the morning," he said.

"We watch pretty closely for repeaters," said the chief. "They usually try to find employment after leaving here."

Petition Drive Begun To Kill Wheel Taxes

The drive is reportedly aimed at getting the repeal issue on the ballot at the next city election.

The City Council will consider Monday an ordinance that would double the wheel tax, which now ranges from $4 to $20.

It has been proposed by Councilman John Mason to obtain additional funds for necessary street improve-raise an additional $230,000 anraise an aditional $230,000 annually, according to city officials.

NU Foreign Students Plan Yule Trips

Trips to Colorado Springs, Denver, Chicago and Akron, Ohio, are included in the Christmas plans for some University of Nebraska foreign students.

David Abifarin from Nigeria will travel to Colorado Springs to spend a typical American Christmas and winter vacation with other foreign students.

Yim Tatu, another African student, will attend UNESCO meetings in Denver with students from other nations.

Other African students will be spending the holidays in Denver and Chicago attending African-American Student Association meetings.

A group of Filipino students will spend part of their vacation in Denver, also.

David Juhn and Don Jung, both from Korea, will attend the 19th Ecumenical Student Conference of Christian World Missions Convention at Akron, Ohio. They are going as representatives of the NU Baptist and Methodist student groups.

Extra Problem

Many students will be staying in Lincoln. Foreign girls who live in the dorms have an extra problem because they must move out of the dorms during the two week vacation period. They will move in with Lincoln host families.

Various student organizations are planning Christmas and New Year parties for their members who remain in Lincoln during the holidays.

Chinese students will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Yien and Dr. and Mrs. L. C. Tao for holiday get-togethers.

The Indian Association will have its annual New Year's dinner on Dec. 29.

Sister's Coming

Charles Chai's sister, Soo Wha Chai, whom he hasn't seen for eight years, is flying to Lincoln Dec. 29. The Korean Student Association will hold a reception for her.

In addition, Miss Chai's fiance, who is going to school in the U.S., will fly to Lincoln. This will be the couple's first reunion in six years.

City Fire Code Is Challenged In Court Case

The constitutionality of Lincoln's fire prevention code was questioned in Municipal Court by American Community Stores, Inc. Thursday.

American Community Stores, which operates the Lincoln Hinky Dinky Stores, has been charged with violating that part of the code that requires the installation of approved automatic sprinkler systems for basements larger than 2,500 square feet when used for storage of combustible material.

Mike Levy, attorney for the firm, asked the case to be dismissed on the grounds that the code is unconstitutional.

"It is an unlawful delegation of the Lincoln City Council's legislative powers," he said.

Acting Municipal Court Judge Thomas J. McManus took the case under advisement and gave American Community Stores time in which to file a brief setting forth its argument and gave the city time in which to file a reply brief.

The court will return the decision some time in January, according to Assistant City Prosecutor Jerry Snyder.

Intent To Rape Charge Results In 4-Year Term

James LaGrande was sentenced to four years in the Nebraska Penal Complex Thursday by Judge Herbert Ronin on a charge of assault with intent to rape.

The 19-year-old youth had pleaded guilty to the amended charge Dec. 12, having entered a innocent plea earlier to a rape charge.

County Medical Group Gets Grant From Cancer Unit

A $3,500 grant from the Nebraska Division of the American Cancer Society to the Lancaster County Medical Society was made at a County Cancer Society Board session Thursday.

The grant will help finance biweekly tumor clinics and assist hospitals in setting up their own tumor registry, Dr. Robert W. Ehrlich, the medical society's tumor clinic chairman, said.

BANNED ON LONDON TAXIS

This picture of two girls in bikinis has been banned by Scotland Yard from the back of London Taxis. The girls appear in a travel agency advertising panel that was to be placed on a dozen cabs but the Yard's public carriage office which controls taxis, barred the picture on the grounds that "it would be offensive to the public morals."

Vacant At Last

Falls City (UPI)—The Richardson County jail was empty Wednesday for the first time since Sheriff Ed Mahoney took office on January 3 of this year—and no one is happier about it than the sheriff.

Mahoney says he hopes it stays that way over the holidays to give his wife a little vacation from the daily chores of feeding as many as 12 prisoners three times a day.

Man Given Year For Theft Of Over $100

Lancaster District Judge Herbert Ronin Thursday sentenced a Lincoln man to one year in the Nebraska Penal Complex on a grand larceny charge.

B47 Veers From Runway, Landing Gear Damaged

Minor damage was done the landing gear of a Lincoln Air Force Base B47 bomber Thursday morning when the aircraft veered off a runway while landing.

There were no injuries, a base spokesman said.

Occupying the plane at the time were Capt. Hal K. Bowman, plane commander; 1st Lt. Albert L. Vernette Jr., copilot, and 1st Lt. Wayne E. Burks, navigator.

School Bill Boosts NU's Loan Funds

Money available for loans to University of Nebraska students has been increased from $250,000 to $800,000 by the $1.56 billion federal aid to education bill signed by President Johnson Wednesday, according to Eldon E. Teten, director of scholarships and financial aids at the University.

Teten added, however, that all loan requests will still be subject to what he termed "a test of reasonableness."

The new bill will also bring a lot more money and additional administrative flexibility to vocational education programs in Nebraska, according to Dr. Floyd A. Miller, state commissioner of education. A larger vocational education administrative staff may also be necessary, he said.

The two-year extension of the impacted areas program, however, will change that program little, Miller said.

Soviet Leaders Make Plain Their Dislike For Race Row

Moscow (AP) —Soviet leaders made plain Thursday they didn't like their first real public taste of Negro-white racial problems.

Fur-hatted Soviet policemen blockaded approaches to the Ghanaian Embassy, reported damaged in Wednesday's demonstration by about 500 angry African students.

Loudspeakers on green and red patrol cars blared orders to keep moving when curious Russians paused to see what the fuss was about. The Russians obediently kept moving.

Suppressed

Domestically, censorship had suppressed everything about the Africans' demonstration — a protest against the death of a Ghanaian medical student. The protest ended in scuffles with police and angry words in Red Square under the walls of the Kremlin. Russian newspapers printed not a line about it.

Westerners have felt for some time there was growing tension socially between Russians and the Negroes, recruited from various African nations for university training and indoctrination in communism. Awareness of latent animosity may have prompted the decision to keep the news from Russian readers.

A large squad of policemen, huddled in thick coats against the cold, had orders to turn back anyone who had no official business at the embassy.

Damaged

Questioned by telephone, Ghanaian Ambassador John B. Elliott said chairs, locks and pictures had been damaged when a large gang of students crowded into the building before their march to Red Square.

"It is my duty to get the police to see that crowds are controlled," Elliott said.

The Africans were protesting the death of Edmund Asare Addo, 29, who was found dead and buried in the snow in 11-below-zero weather last Friday near the Moscow-Kalinin railway line just outside the capital.

Stabbed

Many of the students declared Addo had been stabbed to death because he wanted to marry a Russian girl. They paraded banners comparing the Soviet Union to Alabama. Reports circulated among them and in Western embassies that Addo planned to to have the marriage conducted in Kalinin Saturday.

Russian authorities denied he was killed. They said he was drunk and froze to death. The Soviet news agency Tass said in an English-language dispatch written for newspapers abroad: "It may be that he felt himself unwell and left the train — he was on his way from Moscow to Kalinin."

$300,000 In Art Works Lost In Fire

Detroit (AP) — Art lovers sorrowed Thursday over the loss to fire of an estimated $300,000 in paintings and other art works, including Pablo Picasso creations.

The art, a gallery's collection, was destoyed in a half-million-dollar blaze in a downtown furniture store.

Oils by Picasso, along with engravings, lithographs and ceramics by the Spanish genius, were lost or damaged beyond restoration.

Scores Of Works

Also destroyed in the five-alarm midnight blaze at the Robinson Furniture Co. on Detroit's Washington Blvd. were scores of works of other artists.

Lester Arwin, owner of the gallery, estimated the value of the lost Picassos at $150,000

"They have died," Arwin said, "and with them part of the world of art has died, too."

The fire, fought by more than 130 firemen in 19-degree weather, swept the store's ground floor and most of the second floor. The art gallery was on the second floor.

The cause of the fire was not determined.

Arwin operated the gallery with his wife, Kathleen. They moved the gallery from another downtown building only last September.

Other art works lost to the blaze included those of Canadians Jean Paul Riopelle and Paul Emile Borduas and of Irma Cavat, wife of Zubel Kachadoorian, Detroit-born artist now in Italy.

Senate Investigators Eye Baker Finances

Washington (AP) —Senate investigators are trying to piece together from subpoenaed bank records the assets and liabilities of Robert G. Baker, former secretary of the Senate Democrats.

Lennox P. McLendon, special counsel for the Senate Rules Committee, told newsmen Thursday that aides are combing through financial statements filed by Baker in connection with bank loans obtained for various business ventures.

While McLendon said he was not yet fully familiar with the documents, it was learned that statements filed by Baker from time to time listing his net worth are by no means identical.

The committee is investigating whether Baker, who resigned under fire on Oct. 7 from his $19,600-a-year Senate post, had engaged in outside business activities that conflicted with his official duties or involved other improprieties.

Chairman B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., recently disclosed the committee has obtained from the Federal Housing Administration and the Small Business Administration financial statements filed by Baker in connection with loan applications.

These as well as the subpoenaed bank records are being examined in efforts to determine how much wealth Baker acquired while he was on the Senate payroll.

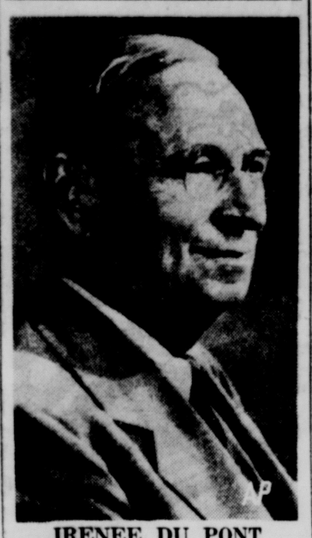
Reports have been published that Baker has claimed assets in excess of $1.5 million, mostly in securities and real estate, and a net worth of around $800,000 after taking into account outstanding notes and mortgages.

However, indications are that some committee sources believe Baker's present net worth falls far short of this and that in seeking loans he may have taken an inflated view of the value of some of his assets.

In a public hearing held by the committee two days ago, its only one to date, testimony brought out that the plush Carousel Motel at Ocean City, Md., in which Baker invested heavily, is ridden with debts.

No more hearings, either public or behind closed doors, are planned by the committee until Congress returns in January after a Christmas recess.

McLendon said, however, that staff investigators will keep busy throughout the recess.



IRENEE DU PONT

Du Pont Dies; Guided Firm's Big Growth

Wilmington, Del. (AP)— Irenee du Pont, one of three brothers who guided the DuPont Company to the position of America's largest diversified chemical firm, died here Thursday.

The 86-year-old du Pont had been ill for some time and apparently succumbed of old age infirmities.

It was during Irenee's seven year reign as president of Du Pont — 1919-1926 — that the firm expanded from a small explosives manufacturing company to a billion dollar a year industrial giant.

He led the company founded by his great grandfather in 1802, into major areas of diversification, and directed its reorganization into the decentralized lines under which it now operates.

The seventh du Pont to head the business, he was the second of three brothers who in succession were president. Pierre S. du Pont, the eldest, died in 1954. Lammot du Pont, the youngest, died in 1952.

Born Dec. 21, 1876, near Wilmington, du Pont always said he based his industrial success on three principles (1) it's nice to be friendly with competitors, (2) a business fails when it doesn't make money, (3) sometimes a man has to swear at his colleagues to drive home a point.

He severed formal connection with the firm in May, 1959, when he retired from the board and was succeeded by his son, Irenee Jr.

Students Urged To Enter Essay Contest On Safety

All Nebraska junior and senior high school students are being asked to enter an essay contest on "How We Can Improve Traffic Safety in Nebraska."

"We urge every eligible student to take an active part in the contest and we request parents, teachers and organizations to provide the students with additional encouragement," State Traffic Safety Coordinator Tom Ryan said Thursday. Gov. Frank Morrison sent letters to all public and private secondary school principals asking their assistance.

Essays must be limited to 500 words. There will be two groups. One is for students in grades 7 to 9 and the other for those in grades 10-12.

Betrothal Revealed

Of particular interest to Lincoln this morning is the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. James W. Good, Jr., of Winnetka, Ill., to reveal the betrothal of their daughter, Jane, to Thomas Chase Kendall, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Preston Kendall, also of Winnetka.

The engagement will be formally announced at a dinner party this evening when Mr. and Mrs. Good entertain at the Sunset Ridge Country Club in Winnetka.

The wedding is planned for Saturday, March 21.

Miss Good is the granddaughter of the late James W. Good, Secretary of War during the administration of President Herbert Hoover, and the late Mrs. Good. Her maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J. Earle Foster of Lincoln.

The bride-elect was graduated from Monticello Preparatory School, Godfrey, Ill., and from the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

Mr. Kendall attended the University of Iowa preceding four years of service with the Air Force. He now is a student at Lake Forest College.

Suburbia's Holiday Guests, Travelers

PARK MANOR

It seems that the more the temperature drops, the more the social life in Park Manor rises, and the different parties and fun are as different as the snowflakes are from one another.

One such seasonal affair will take place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wittmus on Saturday afternoon, when their daughter, Jane, celebrates her seventh birthday.

Jane's guests for a luncheon are Susan Haun, Barbara Miller, Kathy Sukavoty, Susan Griffen, and Becky Hunn, who in addition to occupying themselves with ice cream and cake will spend Saturday afternoon making Christmas decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph V. Adams were among the guests at a potluck dinner and housewarming party last Saturday evening at the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Field.

Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Dale Broekemeier, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Tebo, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Haas, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Huff. The evening hours were spent informally.

Leaving Saturday morning for Bloomington Ill., are Mr. and Mrs. Loren G. Richardson and their children, Connie and Laura, where they will visit with their families during the holidays.

They will be the guests of Mrs. Richardson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hall, and Mr. Richardson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Richardson, as well as visiting with their sisters and brothers.

Mr. and Mrs. Richardson and family plan to return after New Year's Day.

Early Christmas morning guests are expected at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Eddins. They are Mrs. Eddins' brother and sister-in-law, the Rev. and Mrs. Richard Mobayed of Richmond, Mo., who will be visiting in Lincoln until Dec. 28.

And speaking of Park Manor guests, there will be a very special one arriving Friday morning for Mr. and Mrs. L. David Penterman.

Their daughter, Bobbi, who is a freshman at Lindenwood College, St. Charles, Mo., will be home and visiting with her parents and friends until Jan. 5.

Pre-holiday guests who will be arriving at the Penterman home on Saturday will be Mrs. Penterman's cousin and her husbnad, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Patton of Omaha.

Mr. and Mrs. Patton will be the overnight guests of the Penterman family and will return home on Sunday.

Christmas plans at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Elm concern a trip which they and their children, Roger and Mary, will be making on Christmas Eve. They will be going to the home of Mrs. Elm's mother, Mrs. A. F. Kosmata in Ord.

The Elm family will be in Ord overnight and will be returning to Lincoln the evening of Christmas Day.

Audubon, Iowa, will be the Christmas destination for Mr. and Mrs. James M. Hill and their children, Cynthia, Jimmy, Karen, Nancy and Linda, who will spend the holidays at the home of Mrs. Hill's father, Holger Lindholm and with her aunt, Mrs. Anna Thompson.

Departure will be on Tuesday, and the return trip is scheduled for the following weekend.

Christmas will be three days early for Mr. and Mrs. Fred Norstadt and their children, Bethan and Lynn, when they celebrate the holiday with a dinner on Dec. 22.

Special guests will be Mrs. Norstadt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ballard of Boulder, Colo., who have been visiting in Lincoln and Omaha since Dec. 5 and who will be leaving for home shortly after Christmas Day.

Also on the guest list are Mrs. Norstadt's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Ballard of Omaha, and Mrs. Norstadt's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Noble.

Attendants Announced

The wedding of Miss Marianne Barbara Utz of Rochester, N. Y., and Bruce Frederick Pauley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll R. Pauley of Lincoln, will take place at high noon on Saturday, Dec. 21, in the chapel of Colgate Rochester Divinity School.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Utz of Rochester, the bride-elect is a graduate of the University of Rochester. Her fiance is a graduate of Grinnell College, Grinnell, Iowa, and received his Masters degree from the University of Nebraska. Currently he is doing research on a Fulbright grant at Graz, Austria, for a doctorate in history at the University of Rochester.

Mrs. Robert L. Holmes of Farmington, Ill., Mr. Pauley's sister, will attend Miss Utz as matron of honor, and the bridesmaid will be Miss Maryetta Ralph of New York City.

Serving Mr. Pauley as best man will be John R. Price of Manhasset, Long Island, N. Y., and the ushers will be Richard H. Utz of Rochester, brother of the bride-to-be; Robert L. Holmes of Farmington, Ill.; and James R. Bachman of Omaha.

Announcing the members of her bridal party this morning is Miss Nancy Jacobson of Lincoln, who has chosen Friday, Dec. 27, as the date for her marriage to Ralph James Goodell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Goodell.

For the ceremony, which will be solemnized at 7 o'clock in the evening at St. John's Lutheran Church in Seward, the bride-to-be has named her sister, Miss Judy Jacobson, as her maid of honor. Miss Diane Riggert of Seward, and Miss Marty Anderson of Orange, Calif., will be the bridesmaids, and the bridesmatrons will be Mrs. Fred Schamber of Ames, Iowa, and Mrs. Dale Larkin.

Miss Susan Jacobson will attend her sister as flower girl, and lighting the candles for the service will be Charles Jacobson, brother of the bride-elect, and Robert Riggert, Seward.

Ward Holdrege will serve Mr. Goodell as best man, and the corps of ushers will include David Humphry of Omaha; Grant Gregory, Philip Swaim and Gordon Meldrum.

Dear Abby

A Real Friend Wouldn't Mind

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have four children but the little one takes up more of my time than any of the others. You see, she was born with an incomplete stomach (it wasn't fully developed) and she has had six operations already and she isn't even three years old. Well, I have to get up in the night with her many times, and I don't get much sleep. I try to catch a little nap in the afternoons because she sleeps for about an hour then. This friend of mine comes to visit me every afternoon without fail. She is a widow, is lonely and has nowhere else to go. She keeps me from my nap, but I can't tell her not to come or she will be hurt. What can I do?

NO SLEEP

DEAR NO: You are mistaken. A real friend would appreciate your telling her.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow with an 18-year-old daughter. She works with a woman who has a shrimp for a son. He is 22. This woman influenced my daughter to start going with her son because a girl had just thrown him over and he was supposed to be all broken up. Well, before I knew it my daughter was wearing a used engagement ring and now they are talking marriage. When I told her not to be in such a hurry, the boy's mother cinched the deal by getting my daughter to move out of the house and move in with them. So now I am alone and have nothing to say. My daughter never had a boy friend before this one and won't listen to anyone. What can I do?

ON THE OUTSIDE

DEAR ON: Your daughter is of age and there is nothing you can do. Ask her, calmly and without anger, to come home. And then attempt to persuade her to give more thought to this marriage.

Rebid By The Opening Bidder

B. Jay Becker

QUIZ

You are the dealer, both sides vulnerable, and have opened One Spade. Partner responds Two Hearts. What would you now bid with each of the following five hands?

1. ♠KJ852 ♥Q3 ♦AQ4 ♣AQ7
2. ♠AJ8743 ♥Q92 ♦AK62 ♣—
3. ♠AK963 ♥K74 ♦72 ♣K82
4. ♠AKQ53 ♥A752 ♦K3 ♣82
5. ♠AKJ753 ♥K8643 ♦9 ♣4

1. Three notrump. The jump to three notrump in this sequence shows 17 to 19 highcard points, strength in the unbid suits, and, of course, notrump distribution. It follows therefore that partner is in an excellent position to judge the best final contract for the combined holdings, since the rebid identifies so accurately the nature of the opening bid.

2. Three diamonds. There is a reasonable chance of a slam at this point, but the best trump suit and the level at which to play the hand are as yet uncertain. The intention is to show heart support next, and thus, by implication, identify the shortage in clubs.

Three diamonds is a strong bid, since the opener voluntarily climbs into the three level. It is roughly equivalent to jumping to three spades over two hearts, through it does show a different type of hand, of course. It would be wrong to jump directly to three spades—first, because the suit is not quite strong enough, and second, because the all-around distribution would not be property represented.

3. Three hearts. Although this hand, standing by itself, is a minimum opening bid, it picks up in value when partner responds in hearts.

Since partner practically guarantees at least five hearts, there is no good reason to suppress the heart support by rebidding the spades.

4. Four hearts. Obviously, this is a much better hand in support of hearts than the preceding one, and the best way of showing the extra values is by leaping to four hearts. It can be reasonably assumed that partner has 10 or more points for his two heart response, which means that a game is practically certain.

If it turns out that partner has more than minimum values, there is a good chance he will carry on towards a slam. However, we can do nothing more constructive over two hearts than jump to four to indicate at least some interest in a slam.

5. Four notrump. For practical purposes, the number of tricks that will be made depends on how many aces partner has. The Blackwood four notrump bid commands partner to respond in terms of aces.

The intention is to stop at five hearts if partner responds five diamonds (one ace); to bid six hearts if he responds five hearts (two aces); and to bid seven hearts if he responds five spades (three aces).

Nebraska Liquor Consumption Is Up

Nebraskans downed nearly a million gallons more of beer and liquor in 1963 despite a tax increase the second half of the year, the State Liquor Control Commission reported Thursday.

"Based on tax collections, the consumption of all categories of alcoholic beverages increased rather substantially during the year. During the year which ended on Dec. 1, 1962, the estimated consumption aggregated 26,603,324 gallons. This year, the estimated consumption is 27,584,643 gallons," the report to Gov. Frank Morrison, said.

The commission collected $4,205,088 in liquor revenue during the year ending Dec. 1. This is an increase of $736,879 over the $3,468,208 collected in the previous 12-month period.

The report credited the gallonage tax increase which went into effect June 1 and increased consumption for the boost in revenue.

The 1963 Legislature increased the tax on beer from 4 to 6 cents a gallon and the tax on liquor from $1.20 to $1.60 cents a gallon.

The consumption increase is 981,319 gallons.

The report, signed by Liquor Commission Chairman Francis Robinson, said the increase in consumption is significant because legislative opponents of the bill increasing the gallonage tax argued overall liquor revenues would not increase if the tax was raised because of a probable decline in consumption.

CALL HIM PROFESSOR DEVANEY

—TAKES CUT— Maris Signs For '64

New York (AP) — Roger Maris, who hit a record 61 home runs in 1961 but was out of the lineup for nearly half of last season because of injuries, came to terms with the New York Yankees Thursday for the 1964 season despite a cut in salary.

The star right fielder's salary was not disclosed but it was estimated he took a $10,000 slash from his top salary of $72,000, which he made in 1962 and again last year.

"Roger was very fair about it," said Yankee General Manager Ralph Houk. Houk said at a press conference he had stopped off in Kansas City on his way back from the winter meetings in Los Angeles Dec. 7 to see his parents and had talked contract to Maris at that time.

"We had no difficulty at all," Houk continued. "I told him frankly what I thought he was worth and he agreed. He told me he realized he did not have a good season and said he was eager to report early next spring for what he hoped would be the start of a good season."

The slugging right fielder, who was 29 last Sept. 10, played in only 90 games last season. He batted .269 with 23 home runs and only 53 runs batted in. In his record breaking 1961 season, Maris had the same batting figure but he drove in a league-leading 142 runs.

Out of the lineup for long stretches because of leg, back and hand injuries, Maris' bad luck continued during the World Series. He ran into the fence at Yankee Stadium in the second game and sat out the last two games with a swollen left forearm.

Maris was the second Yankee to sign, first in an exclusive playing capacity. Whitey Ford came to terms earlier as a pitcher-coach.

Husker Coach Given $2,000 Salary Hike To $21,000

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

You can call him Professor Devaney now.

The Nebraska football coach, who had all of Nebraska dashing madly to keep him in the state a few days ago, gained that title Thursday when the NU Board of Regents made him an associate professor with tenure.

But the popular Husker coach gained more than a title. His pocketbook was cushioned to the tune of an additional $21,000. The Regents also discarded his old five-year contract — signed only a year ago — for a new five-year pact.

In reality the associate professor title means very little other than that Devaney is assured of employment at NU as long as he wants it. However, the employment would not necessarily be as football coach.

The rank of associate professor with tenure means only that Devaney could not be dismissed completely. If he were let go as football coach, the University would be obligated to give him another job, but not necessarily at the same pay as his football coaching salary.

Nebraska Chancellor Dr. Clifford Hardin explained that it probably was only an oversight that Devaney was not given academic ranking when he was hired from Wyoming two years ago.

Both Pete Elliott and Bill Jennings, Devaney's two predecessors, carried the rank of associate professor. Nebraska athletic director Tippy Dye is listed as a full professor.

In addition to the new terms for Devaney, the Husker football assistants were also given substantial boosts by the Regents at their Thursday meeting.

Biggest Pay Boosts

Cletus Fischer and George Kelly, holdovers from the Jennings regime, were given the biggest boost, bringing their salaries more in line with the aides Devaney brought with him from Wyoming.

Kelly and Fischer were each given $1,800 increases to boost their yearly salary to $11,600. Freshman coach John Melton, undefeated in two seasons as frosh mentor, was boosted $1,500 to $11,600 also.

Carl Selmer, Mike Corgan and Jim Ross all were given $1,000 hikes to provide them with a yearly salary of $11,900.

Contracts for all the assistant coaches are for a one-year period from Jan. 1.

National Prominence Overnight

Devaney's $2,000 raise is the second in a row for the coach who has brought Nebraska football from a low ebb to national prominence overnight.

He was given a $2,000 increase a year ago after directing the Huskers to a 9-2 campaign including a 36-34 win over Miami University of Florida in the Gotham Bowl last December.

And it was this same Miami school that precipitated one of the greatest money-raising campaigns ever staged in Nebraska.

When reports began spreading that Miami also thought a great deal of Devaney's coaching ability, Husker backers leaped to their feet and dug into their pockets to assure Devaney's continued happiness at NU.

Insurance Fund Boosted

With A. E. Forke, a Lincoln auctioneer, spearheading the campaign and Phil Gerelick and Jack Landen guiding operations in Omaha, Nebraskans dumped more than $53,000 into a premium pot for a $100,000 life insurance policy for the Husker coach.

Forke set the goal at $60,000 and says the drive is within "sighting distance" of having the policy paid up in five years.

The insurance policy was one of the key measures used to persuade the 48-year-old coach to remain at Nebraska.

Congratulations For All

'The people of Omaha should be congratulated for the whirlwind job they did and congratulations also are in order for Lincoln and the rest of the state," Swanson said.

Regent Val Peterson of Hastings, a former Nebraska governor, said the action by the Regents and the University "has paid Mr. Devaney the highest possible compliment as a man and as a football coach."

—INTRA-CITY— Rockets To Face LHS '5'

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

The first round of the intra-city basketball schedule begins at Pershing Auditorium Friday night when unbeaten Northeast goes against defending city champ Lincoln High.

Getting more punch in the offense was the basic problem facing coaches Ed and Alden Johnson as they prepared for the city opener.

Ed's Rockets didn't need a lot of points as they opened with a pair of wins two weeks ago. Northeast limited Kearney to 44 points and stopped North Platte with 43 while scoring 62 and 54.

But they'll need more than their 58-point average if Lincoln High repeats its opening game performance. In that one the Links outscored Council Bluffs Abraham Lincoln, 79-75.

But the Links went sour from the field in their second start in a 69-52 setback to Omaha Westside.

As neither team has much height, each is heavily dependent upon good shooting. Tallest of the Lincoln High starters if 6-1 Frank Brill while Northeast has 6-5 Bob Hahn to boost its height average.

The Links will be shooting for their seventh straight win against city competition. A perfect 6-0 mark last year included three wins over the Rockets, two over Southeast and one over Pius X.

While the Lincoln High-Northeast struggle takes most of the attention, there are three other weekend games. The schedule:

FRIDAY

Northeast v. Lincoln High at Pershing Auditorium — Shapes up as an interesting battle. Links warm up this week and extend their string of wins against city foes.

Omaha South v. Southeast at Johnson Gym — Using Omaha Central as a yardstick, the Knights appear to be the best in this one.

Omaha Cathedral at Pius X— High-scoring Thunderbolts notch second win of the campaign.

SATURDAY

Wisconsin Schedules First State GG Meet

Kenosha, Wis. (UPI) — The first state Golden Gloves tournament in the 36-year history of Amateur boxing in Wisconsin will be held here Feb. 20, meet director Jim Barnhill said.

Barnhill said the winners of the state tournament will qualify for the national meet at Louisville, Ky., Feb. 24-28.

—HUSKERS HEALTHY— Chilled Gridders Head South Sunday

A healthy—but chilled—Nebraska football team will fly to Miami Sunday morning to begin final preparations for the Orange Bowl game with Auburn on New Year's Day.

Coach Bob Devaney will shepherd a 45-man squad and all hands have been declared fit and ready for full drills in Miami. Veteran halfback Willie Ross had been hobbled by a leg injury, but he has returned to full-speed activity and is at his familiar No. 1 left halfback spot.

The Cornhuskers still have been unable to practice outside because of frigid temperatures — 7 below to 17 above—and a heavy blanket of snow.

As a result, coach Devaney indicated he may order a Sunday afternoon drill at Miami, plus a day or two of double sessions.

"We will not start putting in defenses or our offense for Auburn until we get to Miami," Devaney said. "Because of limited workout space in the Fieldhouse, we have been confined to group work and physical conditioning."

Workouts Closed

Coach Bob Devaney announced that Nebraska practices at Miami, in preparation for the Orange Bowl game with Auburn, will be closed to the public.

Only persons — including newsmen — with assigned credentials will be allowed into Husker sessions, Devany said.

"It's not so much we're going to get real secretive," Devaney said. "But we have a lot of work to do and we won't be able to get it done if we have hundreds of people milling around our practices."

Kirby, Brown Tabbed

Nebraska co-captain John Kirby has been added to the Senior Bowl team along with tackle Lloyd Voss. The Cornhusker All-American Bob Brown will be in the Challenge Bowl at Corpus Christie on Jan. 4.

NU To Wear Red

Nebraska will be the home team in the New Year's Day Orange Bowl game against Auburn at Miami. The Huskers will be clad in red jerseys and white pants.

—KILGORE, WOODALL— Auburn Kicking One Of Strengths

Auburn, Ala., — Auburn's kicking game, with Jon Kilgore doing the punting and Woody Woodall the place kicking, will again be one of its strongest weapons when the Tigers play Nebraska in the Orange Bowl on New Year's Day.

Kilgore, a junior, finished the season with a 41.3 yard average on 51 kicks to lead the SEC in punting. He also finished eighth in the nation, after leading the college punters for the first six weeks. Last year as a soph, Jon finished third in the SEC.

With his ability to place the ball where he wants it, as well as boom the long ones, Kilgore can easily change the complexion of a game.

It was a Kilgore punt which enabled the Tigers to beat Alabama 10-8 in the season finale. 'Bama's safetyman Benny Nelson bobbled the rolling ball and end Howard Simpson fell on it on the seven to set up the Tigers' winning TD.

Kilgore had his best day punting against Kentucky when he averaged 51.3 yards on five punts. And against Georgia Tech and Alabama he kept the opponent in poor field position to start drives.

Woodall provided the winning margin of points in eight Tiger victories in the past two seasons. And in addition he set three new place kicking records and tied another.

Woodall, a high school teammate of Kilgore's at North Fulton in Atlanta, has kicked 19 field goals in his career for a school record. Woody kicked 23 of 23 extra points this season for a record of 100%. Also, he holds the consecutive PAT mark with 28 (five last year and 23 this year).

Woody's 23 extra points also ties the record for the most in one season.

This year, Woodall, a senior, kicked a field goal and two extra points in Auburn's 23-19 victory over Tennessee. Against Kentucky he kicked both extra points in a 14-12 victory.

When Auburn defeated Georgia Tech, 29-21, Woody kicked a pair of field goals and three extra points. And against Alabama he made a field goal and extra point in the 10-8 win.

A Silly Award

Our nomination for the silliest sports award of all those given at the end of each season is that for Coach of The Year or Manager of The Year.

This is not a reference to Darrell Royal's capture of the honor this year in college football, but rather a thought on the idea of the award itself.

Do coaches really change that much from year to year? Players might have their ups and downs because theirs can be a physical thing. But how can a coach be a complete chump one year and a champion the next while using the same system?

Take the case of Murray Warmath a few years ago when he took his Minnesota team to the Rose Bowl, but after losing in the New Year's Day game returned to Minneapolis to find his popularity had sunk to the bottom because of one game.

Or more recently, Hal Mitchell at Brigham Young. Named coach of the year for his conference a couple of years ago, Mitchell has now been fired. Do you really think he changed that much in two years?

A coach may get too old to do the job or he may go slightly nutty from the hazards of the profession. But if he keeps his mind and health in order, can his system change so much in one or two years that he is coach of the year one season, then chump of the year the next?

Donkeys Don't Win Derby

Someone once remarked that you couldn't win the Kentucky Derby with a donkey. Neither can you win football games without superior player personnel.

And one school isn't going to have personnel superior to all its foes every year. So isn't this the real basis for coach of the year selections. The coach with the best material generally gets the wins and the awards.

It is true that some coaches can get more out of a team than other coaches. But shouldn't this be true next year as well as last year. Then there are some coaches who couldn't win no matter what.

George Halas was named coach of the year in the National Football League when his Chicago Bears won the NFL Western Division. But did George really find the coaching secret in his 68th year—a technique that he didn't have before? Or did his Bears simply play better this year?

Most Valuable Player awards, Rookie of The Year awards, Comeback of The Year awards have some merit. But Coach of The Year awards are another matter.

Wesleyan, Westmar In Finals

. . . HOLIDAY TOURNEY CONCLUDES AT NWU TONIGHT

By DON SUMMERSIDE
Star Sports Writer

Host Nebraska Wesleyan survived foul troubles and a slow start Thursday night to defeat Yankton, 95-79, and advance with Westmar to the finals of the Midwest Holiday Basketball Tournament.

Westmar had the easier time of the two finalists, routing Doane, 91-67.

Tonight's 9:15 p.m. championship will be the second meeting of the month for the two clubs. The Plainsmen won the earlier game, 105-93.

In consolation play Thursday afternoon at Ira J. Taylor Gymnasium, Midland ripped Dana, 91-65, and Behlen's topped Concordia, 95-80.

Behlen's and Midland will play for fifth place today at 4 p.m., Dana and Concordia vie for seventh at 5:45 and Yankton and Doane meet for third at 7:30.

Both Wesleyan and Yankton had trouble keeping clear of the opponent with the Plainsmen being whistled for 26 infractions and the Greyhounds 22. NWU's Bernie Heier received his fifth foul with 10:51 remaining in the game and Yankton pivotman Percy Stielow was forced to depart with 2:24 still to be played.

A three-point play by Yankton's Dave Armstead gave the visitors a 12-9 lead with 12:42 left in the first half and Plainsmen coach Irv Peterson decided it was time for his sophomore platoon.

The rookies kept pace with Yankton for the next three minutes and then the first-string returned — this time with better success.

Chet Paul's free throw with 7:55 left in the half pushed NWU on top, 19-18, and the hosts were never again headed. But the issue remained close until two steals and a blocked shot were converted into baskets by Don Beckmann, Dick Nelson and Paul —and a 32-24 Wesleyan edge with 3:35 to go in the half.

After posting a 43-33 halftime lead, the Plainsmen appeared to have broken the game open in the early moments of the final period. The fast break began to hum and Wesleyan pushed from a 47-40 advantage to 60-40 in slightly more than two minutes.

But the Wesleyan machine faltered somewhat when Nelson left the game for a spell after picking up his fourth foul with 14:18 yet to be played.

Yankton initiated a comeback that brought the Hounds within seven points, 73-67, when Ron Bertsch connected on a jumper.

Still holding a seven-point margin with 3:30 remaining, the Plainsmen switched from 'go-go' to a delay style and used free throws to pull away in the final minutes.

Mike Roark meshed six of six charity attempts in the last 1:13 to help shove Wesleyan to its 16-point verdict.

Although sitting out a fair portion of the second half, Nelson walked off with 27 points and scoring honors, hitting 12 of 20 two-point tries. Beckmann did even better on a percentage basis, hitting 8 of 10 field attempts, and the Garland senior contributed another nifty floor game. Paul picked off 13 rebounds and scored 22 points.

Westmar's Glenn Miller and Jim Sutherland sparked the runaway over Doane.

Doane, hitting a chilly 11 for 50 from the field in the first half, went the opening five minutes without a point and seven minutes without a field goal as the Iowans raced away to 12-0 and 20-5 margins in the early going.

The Eagles held a 45-26 halftime advantage and continued to score at will in the last 20 minutes, posting a 56% average from the field for the game.

Midland's Art Oliver turned in a sparkling performance for the second straight day, hitting 30 points to pace the Warriors' romp.

Dana's inexperienced club was never in the contest, trailing 38-23 at halftime, and lagging by as many as 29 points in the final period.

Backing up Oliver in the Midland scoring was Jerry Vickery with 17 points and Dick Mendenhall with 14.

Trailing 48-41 at halftime, Concordia ran off 13 points—while holding Behlens scoreless—in the first five minutes of the second half and took a 54-50 lead with 15:22 remaining.

Behlens came back to twice tie the contest in the next two minutes and then went ahead for good, 58-56, on a jump shot by Willie Fitzpatrick.

Santa Anita May Not Open Because Of Union Demands

. . . CALIFORNIA TRACK, UNION IN SQUABBLE

Arcadia, Calif. (AP) — President Robert P. Strub of the Los Angeles Turf Club declared Thursday that the club's Santa Anita Race Track would have to go out of business if it met union demands.

Strub said that negotiations with a track union will continue Friday, but he deplored what he called their "unrealistic and fantastic demands."

A union spokesman said automation and the work load are of more importance to the union than wage increases. He said the union is "just trying to save the jobs of men who have devoted their whole lives to racing."

The union is organizing strike crews and pickets, the spokesman said, in case a settlement is not reached before the union's Dec. 24 deadline.

Santa Anita is scheduled to open its annual winter meeting Dec. 26. The turf club called a news conference after rumors spread that it might not open.

"At these levels," said Strub, referring to the demands, "we will never open our doors." He said the track site could be made into a giant business-apartment center.

Santa Anita is one of eight tracks comprising the Federation of California Racing Associations, and all would be affected by the demands of the new contract now being negotiated.

The unions, said Fred Ryan, vice-president and general manager of Santa Anita, insists among other things that they control the manpower and must approve any of the labor-saving devices which a track might employ.

"This would be pure feather-bedding and we must resist it," said Ryan.

Negotiations have not even reached the areas of wage increases, which have yet to be settled.

The Building Services International Union, which includes the sellers, cashiers and calculators, is the union involved.

California tracks' pay to these parimutuel employes is about one-third higher than in most other states, Ryan said. Base pay for a seller in California is $30.60 per day, for cashiers $33.60 and for calculators $65.60.

Ryan said that California tracks also provide fringe benefits which the majority of the other states do not pay.

James Stewart, executive vice president and general manager of Hollywood Park, sat in on the news conference at Santa Anita and emphasized that his track similarly would face economic ruin if the union demands were met. Hollywood operates in the summer season.

Cyclones Fall To Marquette

Milwaukee (AP) — Marquette, led by the second-half shooting of Tom Flynn, defeated Iowa State 67-62 Thursday night and snapped a three-game losing streak.

Flynn fired in five baskets and two free throws to keep Marquette ahead of the onrushing Cyclones, who pulled to 59-58 with 2½ minutes remaining.

He topped all scorers with 20 points.

Con Yagodzinski drove for a lay-up to give Marquette a 61-58 lead. Iowa State's Bob Zeigler hit a basket to bring the Cyclones up to 63-60 before Flynn put Marquette out of reach with two free throws.

Peace Bowl Dream Is Gaining Stature

. . . NORTH PLATTE FEATURE

By GENE BUDIG
Outstate Nebraska Bureau

A sports spectacular for this outstate city of 15,000?

He proposed a bowl game for North Platte, one which would pit only the top service football teams. He envisioned vast potential for such a venture—maybe a 20,000 turnout some day.

General support wasn't to be found, however.

So Anderson went to the Buffalo Bills, a group of fellows who love sports just as much as he does.

They finally bought the idea and soon the course for North Platte's first annual Peace Bowl was being charted.

"We didn't get to work on the thing until the first of September and the game was scheduled for Nov. 11," Anderson recalled.

The Newport Naval Base and the Memphis Naval Air Station, a pair of also-rans, were signed for the inaugural.

Meanwhile, Buffalo Bills were going up and down the streets selling tickets. Sales were good. More than 4,000 were sold.

Anderson announced that the second annual game will feature the country's top two service teams—the Warhawks of Lackland Air Force Base and the Marines of Quantico.

"They've given verbal agreement to the meeting," he said.

He also said seating at the high school football field will be doubled for the fray, assuring 8,000 seats.

"We'll have more than that here for the game," he inserted. "This time we've got a whole year to promote the thing. And the Defense Department is helping us. They're quite enthused over the bowl."

The Royal Canadian Band also will appear.

"We're hoping this game will develop into a state promotion. There are other cities, such as San Antonio, Tex., bidding for it. Someday it will draw 20,000 people, just wait and see," he said.

New Mexico Pummels KU

Albuquerque, N. M. (AP) — The unbeaten New Mexico Lobos pummeled Kansas on the boards, offsetting poor shooting from the floor, and gained a 59-54 non-conference basketball win Thursday night.

The victory, before a sell-out crowd of 6,457, was New Mexico's seventh of the season and extended its winning streak to nine going into last season.

The Lobos hit a cold 40% from the floor but offset that with the rebounding of 6-foot-6 Claude Williams, who pulled down 11, 6-foot-3 Dick (Boo) Ellis with nine and 6-foot-8 Ira Harge with eight. Kansas grabbed only 27 rebounds—one less than that trio.

Intent Letter Pact Renewed

. . . BIG 8-SOUTHWEST

Kansas City (AP) — The Big Eight-Southwest inter-conference letter of intent agreement for high school football players, a forerunner of the six-conference agreement, was renewed Thursday with a Feb. 11 signing date.

After the signing date, any athlete who signs, then jumps to any of the other 15 schools in both leagues would lose a year of competition. It is designed to control the expensive recruiting race, and to reduce pressure on the boys and their parents.

The Big Eight-Southwest agreement signed in December, 1962, was the first of its kind in the nation. It served as a blueprint for a six-conference letter of intent agreement for all sports which went into effect last May. Four independent schools also joined.

The Southern Conference has voted to join the inter-conference agreement and more may join at the NCAA convention in New York, Jan. 5-6.

Wayne Duke, Big Eight executive director, said the Big Eight-Southwest agreement worked well the past year and both leagues were strongly in favor of renewal.

Some compromises were necessary. The Big Eight was hopeful the Southwest would adopt its policy of awarding one-year scholarships, with renewals every year if the athlete meets academic requirements. But the Southwest will continue to award four-year grants.

The Southwest wanted the agreement to cover all sports, but went along with the Big Eight's wishes that it cover only football. This is to cut the expense of re-signing athletes on the May date of the inter-conference agreement, already necessary for football players.

Among important provisions of the agreement, which is similar to last year's, is a 72-hour period starting with the signing date, during which prospective athletes can't visit any campus. The boys can only be signed in their home towns. This is to stop the practice of hiding a boy at signing time.

Duke said Big Eight faculty men have decided to join the inter-conference agreement, if the signing date established at the NCAA meeting in New York is not before April 15, 1964. The date was May 20 last year. Otherwise, Duke said, the league will adopt an intra-conference signing date for all sports at its quarterly meeting in February.

Liston Searches For Pre-Fight Training Sight

Lincoln Bowler Wins All-Events At Fairbury

The singles crown went to Wayne Elgert of Fairbury. The team of Potts and Hedke from Waterville, Kan., won the doubles and South Ciders of Geneva copped the team crown.

NU Cagers Travel To Southern Cal

. . . TWO-GAME SET SLATED WITH TROJANS

Nebraska travels to Los Angeles this weekend for a two-game set with Southern California in hopes of breaking a four-game losing streak. The Huskers have only an opening game 79-72 win over Wyoming on the victory side of the ledger.

Propogated by a 64-58 loss to Houston last Saturday, the streak may be tough to break against the mighty Trojans who took a pair from the Huskers last year in a weekend series.

But Forrest Twogoods' squad is in the same boat. After winning its opener against Butler, Southern Cal has dropped three straight to Brigham Young and a couple of Big Eight foes, Kansas and Kansas State.

Coach Joe Cipriano has juggled his lineup again, trying to get some scoring punch into the lackluster Nebraska attack. Starting for NU will be Charlie Jones (6-1) and Grant Simmons (6-2½) at guards, Daryl Petsch (6-5) and Jerry Spears (6-6) at the forwards and Jim Yates (6-7) at the post.

However, the starting five may change before Friday night. Cipriano may start Neil Nannen (6-5) at a forward or Bob Antulov (6-7) at center, moving Yates over to forward.

Bob Gates, who scouted the Trojans against K-State and Kansas, says they are an aggressive poised ball club with good overall heighth and fine shooting.

Friday's game will be staged in the Los Angeles Sports Arena before the two teams move over to Los Angeles State for the Saturday contest.

After five games Nebraska has matched its opponents field goal for field goal, but foes are out-averaging the Huskers, 75.4—65.4 The NU deficit comes at the charity stripe where foes lead, 57-103.

Tropical Park Revenue Rises

Miami, Fla. (AP) — The Florida State Racing Commission reported Thursday that state revenue from Tropical Park for the first 13 days of operation was up 2.2% or $15,408.

The state's share from Tropical amounted to $714,093 for the first 13 days of this year compared with $698,684 for the corresponding period in the 1962-63 season.

Donnelly Second

Philly Holds Army-Navy Tilt

The city of Philadelphia confirmed this Thursday after published reports quoted the athletic directors at West Point and Annapolis that the contract was signed May 21.

Chicago reportedly had been attempting to lure the game to Soldiers' Field from its longtime site in Philadelphia Stadium. The service classic has been played here every year since 1932, with the exception of three years during World War II.

South China Seas Possible Hot Spot

. . . NAVAL AUTHORITY WARNS

London (UPI)—The editor of the authoritative naval annual, Jane's Fighting Ships, warned Friday that a spark igniting World War III could be struck in the South China Seas where the navies of a score of nations face each other.

He coupled this with another warning that the United States Navy—still the greatest in history—has too much World War II dead wood while the highly-modernized Russian fleet is swiftly growing in strength, aided by the most powerful submarine force ever known.

Raymond V. B. Blackman urged Britain and the United States to keep an eye on the South China Seas as guardians of the naval power of the free world in the foreword to the 66th edition of his famous reference book, published Friday.

"The map speaks for itself," Blackman said when he was asked by United Press International to elaborate his caution. "I decided when I carefully phrased that reference that I would not discuss or amplify it—there might be repercussions, you know."

Blackman wrote:

"At intervals over the decades it has been possible, from the study of the build-up of one naval power or naval powers in close proximity to each other, to discern the ingredients of a potentially explosive mixture.

"A small or rising national could strike the spark.

"Grouped in a wide circle around the South China Seas, vis-a-vis each other, are the indigenous and divergent navies of no fewer than a score of the countries listed in this annual. 'Look to your moat' might apply to the straits in this theatre rather than nearer at home, whether home be Great Britain or the United States."

In The Area

Among the nations in the area indicated by Blackman are Indonesia, Malaysia, the two Koreas, Cambodia, South Viet Nam, China, Formosa, Japan, Thailand, Australia and the British colony of Hong Kong. A little further off are India, Pakistan and Burma.

Blackman said that 44 new navies have come into existence since the end of the Second World War.

"It is somewhat ironical that while the Navy of the mighty United States, the senior partner of the victorious allies is in danger of becoming top heavy with the weight of its outdated war-built hulls, the navies of the so-called defeated nations are rising on a pinnacle of new steel, unfettered by the dead wood of a generation gone."

Blackman said he had "gotten over his grief" at the decline of British naval power and was now rooting for the United States to build the most advanced ships and submarines to counter the Russian navy which "is becoming an increasingly nuclear-powered and guided missile armed fleet."

He said that with its 3,250 vessels the U.S. Navy was still the greatest the world has ever seen even though it is largely composed of older tonnage.

Looking Ahead

"But looking a few years hence," he went on, "the time will soon come when dozens of aircraft carriers and cruisers and literally hundreds of destroyers, destroyer escorts, submarines, and fleet minesweepers will have reached the end of their useful lives."

Blackman said America's 1964 naval construction program—which includes six Polaris submarines—is not as large as the previous years although the parallel conversion program will add seven guided missile ships and 19 destroyers to the fleet as well as other units.

In contrast to the United States, he said, Russia has succeeded in discarding her pre-war and wartime warships. And she has been able to supply surface ships and submarines to her European satellites and to Indonesia and Egypt and guided missile fast patrol boats to Cuba.

New Look

"The Soviet navy has a new look which must have a profound effect on naval thinking and planning on both sides of the Atlantic," he said. "There is no doubt that the Soviet Union is developing a maritime strategy as the major part of her overall policy to extend her influence throughout the world.

"The Soviet watchwords seem to be intelligence, infiltration and interception. Intelligence of all navies' movements, infiltration on to all the ocean trade routes and interception of all the threats potentially directed against the U.S.S.R."

It is a hard season on goats in Calcutta. Across the Hooghli River, in the shipping port of Howrah, a circus came to town. And there we begin the tale.

Says the morning Amrita Bazar Patrika: "The victim of the circus tiger, a poor goat, hardly had time to bleat when the awesome hero of many a glittering night pounced on it and tore it to pieces."

The Statesman, however, reports it was not a tiger but a lion. And not one goat but two. As part of the act, the two goats were to put their heads in the lion's mouth — who must have been a Joe E. Brown of lions.

"The lion struck one of the goats and knocked it senseless and then leaped forward as if to devour it."

There are six million people in Calcutta. Several thousand sleep in the train stations and have been camped there for years. Calcutta has tripled in population in 10 years.

The Ford Foundation people have spent $3 million on plans to build housing and tear out frightful slums. Then they found out that these slums also housed small but important industry.

Each night several hundred people sleep on the big cantilevered bridge. And every night several die there. The morning pedestrians step over the bodies. And when the commuter rush is over, some city authority picks them up and takes them away.

For six million people there are a million cows on the streets of Calcutta. They walk the sidewalks among the pedestrians. Sleep on the busiest corners. Stop and shop a handful of greens from the street grocer. (They are sacred and cannot be booted away.)

I tried a little pan. Everybody chews a little pan. Take the pastel green leaf of the betel nut. Spread it with red lime and white lime. Sprinkle it with chopped red betel nut. Fold it into a tricorner. Stick a tissue paper - thin piece of silvered paper on it. Chew it.

Has a prominent flavor and is supposed to be better for you than multiple vitamins. Not bad at all.

Good Things From The Oven Say 'Happy Holidays'

Although traditions have been a part of foreign cooking and other holiday observances for years in other countries, our traditions are just beginning. For example, there are nine Bethlehems in the United States—from Connecticut to Mississippi. Many of them have special observances at Christmas-time and all receive thousands of letters to be canceled and remailed with the Behlehem postmark.

In Dixie it is tradition never to wash clothes the Friday before Christmas. If you do you'll have bad luck. Finding an orange in your Christmas stocking is good luck in any part of the country.

Similar to the traditional cake served in Genoa is this Italian Fruit Cake. It's a twisted sweet bread, filled with pine nuts and candied fruits.

ITALIAN FRUIT CAKE
(Genoa Style)

Makes 2 Cakes

¾ cup milk
½ cup sugar
2 teaspoons salt
½ cup (1 stick) margarine or butter
½ cup warm water (105-115° F.)
2 packages or cakes yeast, active dry or compressed
1 egg, beaten
1 tablespoon grated orange peel
4 cups unsifted flour
½ cup dark raisins
½ cup golden raisins
½ cup candied citron
½ cup pine nuts

Scald milk; stir in sugar, salt and margarine or butter; cool to lukewarm. Measure warm water into large warm bowl. Sprinkle or crumble in yeast, stir until dissolved. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture, egg, grated orange peel and half the flour; beat until smooth. Stir in remaining flour and fruits, blend well. Cover tightly with waxed paper or aluminum foil. Refrigerate overnight.

Divide dough in half. Cut one half the dough into 3 equal pieces.

On a lightly floured board roll each piece, under palms of hands, into a strip 18-inches long. Form 3 strips into a braid, sealing ends well. Place on a greased baking sheet. Repeat with remaining half of dough. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

HUNGARIAN CHRISTMAS BREAD
(Makes 4 loaves)

Preheat oven to 350° F., 20 minutes before loaves are ready to bake.

1 cup milk
½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup (2 sticks) butter or margarine
⅓ cup very warm water
2 packages or cakes yeast, dry or compressed
5½ cups sifted flour (about) grated rind of 2 lemons (2 tablespoons)

2 cups ground poppy seeds
2 cups sugar
1 cup raisins
1 cup milk
grated rind of 2 lemons (2 tablespoons)
⅛ teaspoon powdered saffron (optional)
1 egg, beaten

Scald the milk; stir in the sugar, salt and butter or margarine. Cool to lukewarm.

Measure the very warm water into a large bowl and sprinkle or crumble in the yeast. Stir in the lukewarm milk mixture.

Add 3 cups flour and the lemon rind. Beat until smooth. Add enough remaining flour to form a soft dough. Turn out onto a lightly floured board and knead until smooth and elastic, about 8 to 10 minutes.

Put in a greased bowl, turning to grease all sides. Cover and let rise in a warm place, free from draft, for about 1 hour, or until doubled in bulk.

Meanwhile prepare the filling. Combine the ground poppy seeds, sugar, raisins, milk, lemon rind and saffron. Mix well. Cook this mixture, stirring constantly, over medium heat for about 10 minutes, or until thick enough to spread. The mixture will thicken on standing.

Punch down the dough and divide into 4 equal parts. Roll out each part into a rectangle ¼ inch thick.

Spread each rectangle with ⅔ cup filling and roll up like a jelly roll. Place on greased baking sheets, seam side down, and brush with ½ the beaten egg.

Brush with the remaining beaten egg. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for about 35 minutes, or until golden brown. Remove from the baking sheets and cool.

Frosting Deluxe

Here is a frosting that will do credit to the time and effort that goes into cake baking—It's good with a 'start-from-scratch' cake—or with a cake mix—try it.

PINEAPPLE BROILED PRALINE

Blend ½ cup melted butter and 1 cup brown sugar (packed). Spread half of mixture over cake top. Drain 1 (1-pound 4½-ounce) can pineapple slices; arrange slices over brown sugar mixture. Mix ¼ cup chopped maraschino cherries and 1 cup flaked coconut with rest of brown sugar mixture; spread evenly over pineapple. Broil until bubbly, 8 to 10 minutes.

Pre-Party Nibble Fun

A good dinner deserves a good start and one of the best beginnings is an array of eye-catching, appetite-stimulating nibblers. Simple spreads on toast rounds or picks of cheese and shrimp will do the trick, but the hot hors d'oeuvre not only sets off the evening in style, but, being fairly substantial, can eliminate the cooking and serving problem of a first course.

FISH BITES WITH CHILI DUNK

1 tablespoon chili sauce
1 teaspoon chili powder
1 cup mayonnaise
1 garlic clove, crushed

Mix chili sauce, chili powder, mayonnaise and garlic and let stand for at least one hour. Spread fish bites on baking sheet and heat in hot oven (425 degrees) for ten minutes. Serve hot fish bites with chili dunking sauce.

CUCUMBER AND SALMON

¼ lb. smoked salmon, sliced
Freshly ground black pepper
Lemon wedge

Score cucumber skin with a fork. Cut cucumber into ¼ inch slices. Put a piece of sliced salmon on each cucumber. Serve with pepper and lemon wedges.

BROILED ANCHOVIES

2 two ounce cans flat anchovy fillets
3 slices white bread
Minced parsley
Lemon wedges

Trim crusts from bread. Toast bread on one side in broiler under low heat. Cut each slice into six strips. Place one anchovy fillet on the untoasted side of each strip. Broil under moderate heat for 3 minutes or until hot. Sprinkle with minced parsley and serve with lemon wedges.

CHEESED POTATO CHIPS

Spread potato chips on a baking sheet and sprinkle with parmesan cheese. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees) for five minutes or until piping hot.

CURRIED MEAT BALLS

1 lb. ground beef
2 teaspoons curry powder
1 cup stuffing mix
½ cup butter
½ teaspoon salt
freshly ground black pepper.

Mix beef, curry powder, stuffing mix, salt and pepper together. Shape into 32 small balls and saute in butter over high heat for five minutes or until brown. Drain.

HOT BACON FRANKS

10 slices bacon, cut in half crosswise

Oven 350 degrees. Yield: 20

Cut each frankfurter into 5 pieces. Wrap bacon slice around each piece; fasten with a wooden pick. Place on a rack in shallow baking pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes. Serve hot.

TIP: Broil 3 to 4 inches from heat, until bacon is crisp.

BAKED TUNA BALLS

6½ ounce can tuna, drained
1 egg
½ cup bread crumbs
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
2 tablespoons chopped onion
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
2 tablespoons chopped almonds
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
½ teaspoon poultry seasoning
½ cup crushed cornflakes
2 tablespoons melted butter

Oven 450° Yield: 40

Combine tuna, egg, bread crumbs, mayonnaise, onion, parsley, almonds, mustard and poultry seasoning. Mix well. Shape into 40 balls; roll in cornflakes. Dip in melted butter. Bake at 450° for 10 minutes. Serve on cocktail picks.

CHEESE-POTATO PUFFS

3 cups Mashed Potato Flakes
¾ cups shredded Cheddar cheese dash cayenne pepper
1 egg, slightly beaten
¼ cup butter, melted

Yield: 50

Prepare 4 servings mashed potatoes as directed on package, decreasing water to 1 cup. Stir in cheese and cayenne pepper. Form mixture into 50 balls. Dip in egg, then in remaining dry potato flakes (about 1 cup). Saute in butter about 10 minutes, until deep golden brown. Serve hot. TIP: Brown cubed luncheon meat to serve with cheese-potato puffs.

HOT OLIVE-CHEESE BALLS

40 large stuffed green olives
¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese

Oven 450° Yield: 40

Cut biscuits into quarters. Wrap each piece around an olive and roll in Parmesan cheese. Bake at 450° for 6 to 8 minutes. TIP: These may be baked ahead of time and reheated wrapped in foil.

As Good As It Looks

Today, the making of a pie is an easy as the eating—with convenience mixes. And it's just as easy to turn convenience products into pies that are distinctively your own creations—by giving them a dash of old-fashioned spice. Pies for holiday entertaining can be made one-two-three by the following recipes. Christmas Eggnog Pie, for instance, boasts a festive nutmeg-spiced filling made of commercially prepared eggnog and mixed glace fruit, the whole turned into a vanilla wafer pie crust. Not only is this a luscious wedge, but the pie can be made hours before it is to be served. Spiced Marshmallow Coconut Pie is another holiday pie which starts with commercial eggnog and becomes special when given a fragrant bit of nutmeg.

CHRISTMAS EGGNOG PIE

2 envelopes unflavored gelatine
½ cup water
2 cups commercial prepared eggnog
½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon ground nutmeg
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon rum extract
1 cup heavy cream
¾ cup mixed glace fruit
Vanilla wafers
1 tablespoon sugar
½ teaspoon pure vanilla extract

Soften gelatine in water in a custard cup. Let stand in a pan of hot water to melt gelatine. Add to eggnog along with the next 4 ingredients. Place bowl in a pan of ice water until eggnog begins to thicken. Whip ½ cup of the heavy cream. Fold into mixture, along with glace fruit. Turn into a buttered 9-inch pie plate, lined with vanilla wafers. Chill until pie is firm and ready to serve. Just before serving, add the 1 tablespoon sugar and pure vanilla extract to the remaining ½ cup cream. Beat until it stands in soft peaks. Spread over pie. Sprinkle with additional nutmeg.

YIELD: One 9-inch pie.

Coconut Chiffon Tarts

Here is a dessert that will charm all who sample it. It's not a heavy one, but its lightness is particularly satisfying.

FRESH LEMON-COCONUT CHIFFON TARTS

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
¼ cup cold water
¾ cup sugar
½ cup fresh lemon juice
½ teaspoon salt
4 eggs, separated
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
¾ teaspoon pure vanilla extract
6 baked 5-inch tart shells

Soften gelatine in cold water. Set aside. Mix ½ cup of the sugar, lemon juice, salt and beaten egg yolks in top of a double boiler. Cook over hot water (not boiling) 10 to 12 minutes or until of custard consistency. Stir in softened gelatine, lemon rind and pure vanilla extract. Cool over ice water until custard begins to thicken. Beat egg whites until they stand in soft, stiff peaks. Gradually beat in reto serve. Top with whipped maining sugar. Fold into the tart shells. Chill until ready mixture. Turn into cold baked cream, garnish with grated lemon rind.

YIELD: 6 servings.

Sandwich—

Double decker sandwiches with two layers of filling. Sparkling pineapple shrimp salad for one . . . bacon and tomato for the other. Use both dark and white bread, toasted and buttered. Make pineapple filling this way: Combine 1 (8¾-ounce) can pineapple tidbits, drained, 1 cup chopped cooked shrimp, ½ cup diced celery, 2 tablespoons each minced green onion and mayonnaise. Enough for 4 sandwiches.

Nikita's Plan Okayed

Moscow (AP) — The Supreme Soviet (parliament) Thursday gave a formal go-head to Premier Khrushchev's plan to put more life into ailing agriculture and a few more consumer goods into Russian homes.

Without a dessenting vote, the parliament ratified plans to spend 42 billion rubles ($46 billion) in the next seven years for a massive buildup of the chemical industry to produce more fertilizer and more goods for the people.

The Supreme Soviet, meeting in the Kremlin, also approved the Soviet Union's budget for 1964 and 1965 with only a few revisions. It all was largely a formality. Never has the Supreme Soviet upset proposals by the government and party leaders.

From the new fertilizers to be plowed into the soil, the Russian plan calls for a harvest of 163.2 million tons of grain next year against 144.72 million tons in 1962. Last year's crop hasn't been announced yet — though it is believed to be more than 10 million tons below 1962. The crop was so bad the Soviet Union had to make huge purchases in the West to feed its people.

The 1965 wheat program calls for 169.6 million tons. Vast use of chemical fertilizers is behind the Russians hope for better harvests to come.

Western agricultural specialists do not share the Russian confidence. Not only are there complex problems involved in the rapid expansion of fertilizer production, but there is the weather factor. Bad weather was one of the prime reasons for this year's crop failures.

Increased total industrial output also is predicted by the Russians — despite the fact that production in some branches of industry has been cut back to make more cash available for the chemical revolution.

The Russians themselves are expected to get more consumer goods as the production of synthetic materials from the chemical industry increases. But heavy goods still will get priority.

U.S. Authorities Label Soviet Budget 'Phony'

Washington (AP)— U.S. Analysts described the new Soviet budget Thursday as a phony — including Moscow's claims to a big arms spending cut and a better life for consumers.

The Supreme Soviet gave its formal approval Thursday to the 1964 and 1965 budgets which, according to the Kremlin, are part of a major effort under Premier Khrushchev to improve Russian living standards. Announced military spending for 1964 was cut $666 million below this year.

Challenging the thesis that Khrushchev is putting butter ahead of guns, U.S. experts who have made a close study of the Soviet program have concluded that:

1. There has been no substantial drop in Soviet arms spending.

While the outright military budget — which includes only a fraction of total Soviet defense outlays — decreased from 13.9 billion to 13.3 billion rubles, the budget for scientific and technical research climbed from 4.7 billion to 5.2 billion rubles. The science heading covers much Soviet military spending, Western observers believe.

Other items in the Kremlin budget also cause U.S. analysts to suspect a continued high level of military spending, although there may be some drop in the number of men in uniform reflecting advances in military technology.

2. The Soviet consumer is getting the short end of Soviet resources allocations, as shown by disclosures that:

— The minimum wage is being kept at the present rate of 40 to 45 rubles a month instead of rising to 50 to 60 rubles as previously promised.

—The work week remains at 41 hours, instead of being trimmed an hour as had been proposed earlier. The new budget program makes no mention of the goal to chop the work week to 35 hours by 1965.

Morrison Plans To Attend D.C. Credit Sales Talk

Gov. Frank Morrison has been invited to a panel discussion in Washington Mar. 19 on the problems of retail sales and commercial credit and the role of state government in regulating it.

Morrison, who plans to attend, said Thursday he was asked to participate because of the recent time sales crisis in Nebraska resulting from the invalidation of the 1959 installment sales act by the Nebraska Supreme Court. It resulted in a special session of the Legislature to rectify the situation.

The panel discussion in the nation's capital is being sponsored by American University there.

Profit Taking Hits Stocks

New York (AP)— Profits were taken on a broad front Thursday as the stock market declined in moderate trading. Popular market averages slid off from historic peaks.

The retreat was de-emphasized by a drop in volume to 4.42 million shares from Wednesday's 6.07 million.

The recent advance to new peaks in some market averages was a labored affair, with more stocks declining than advancing. Thursday, with losses outnumbering gainers by nearly 2 to 1, the over-all market and the averages were in gear.

An estimated $1.6 billion was clipped from the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, based on the fall in The AP average.

Of 1,329 issues traded, 692 declined and 352 advanced. New highs for the year to declined, two rose and Westinghouse Electric was unchanged.

Prices declined irregularly on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 1.42 million shares compared with 1.56 million on Wednesday.

Soybeans Cling To Early Gains

Chicago (AP)— A sharply reduced government estimate of 1963 yield boosted all old crop soybean futures the 10 cents limit for a single day at the start of transactions on the Board of Trade Thursday and they held tightly at those peaks.

The new crop months also hit the day's ceilings well before noon and trade thereafter was virtually at a standstill with offers to sell scarce or absent.

At the close, wheat was ¼ cent a bushel lower to 2⅛ higher, December $2.18¼-16¾; soybeans 10 cents higher, January $2.33⅜ bid; corn ¼-½ higher, December $1.18⅜-⅝; oats ½ lower to ¼ higher, December 68½-¼ cents; rye 1¾-3¼ higher, December $1.50.

Liner America Finally Cleared After Battle Over One Worker

New York (AP)— The liner America, stranded forlornly in New York harbor for more than three months in a dispute over a single crew member, was free Thursday to sail again. But she has no place to go for the next seven weeks.

"The S. S. American will be sailing shortly," said arbitrator Theodore W. Kheel, in announcing settlement of a deadlock over the purported racial bias of an engineering officer.

However, officials of the United States Lines said the nation's second largest merchant vessel is not scheduled for another transatlantic voyage until Feb. 7. Meanwhile, the 34,000-ton ship is due for her annual overhaul next month.

Refusal to sail the 723-foot ship last Sept. 14 by more than 600 AFL-CIO National Maritime Union members led to cancellation of eight transatlantic trips and cruises. Thousands of passengers were forced to make other arrangements.

At the center of the dispute was First Assistant Engineer Louis Neurohr, accused by the NMU of locking Negro and Puerto Rican crewmen out of a washroom and otherwise discriminating against them. He denied the charges.

Neurohr is a member of the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association, a rival to the NMU's own union engineers.

Hearings on the matter failed to determine whether Neurohr actually was guilty of discrimination, and the settlement was reached in arbitration talks led by Kheel.

Under the agreement, Neurohr will continue in his job. The United States Lines was directed to see that NMU men are not treated in the way they said caused their complaint.

TRADES STRIPES FOR BARS

Charles E. Simmons (center), of 2500 B, has his new second lieutenant's bars pinned on by Maj. Dorrence T. Duffield, Lincoln subsector commander for the XVI Army Corps (left) and Col. Ralston J. Graham, Simmons' regimental commander. Simmons is the first Lincoln-area Army Reservist to win an officer's commission through the Reserve Army Officers Candidate School at Ft. Benning, Ga. Before deciding to take the OCS course last July, Lt. Simmons was assistant operations sergeant with Headquarters and Headquarters Co. of the 355th Regiment, 89th Division.

Doctor Has Hope Delay Trip Abroad

Hollywood (UPI) — A downcast Bob Hope, acting on his physician's advice, Thursday delayed for at least two days his scheduled flight to the Mediterranean area to entertain U.S. troops during the Chritmas season.

Hope's troupe of entertainers left Thursday morning on schedule aboard an Air Force jet transport for Istanbul, Turkey, and their first show.

Hope underwent treatment for a blood clot in his left eye last week and his physician advised two more days of rest because of his "general physical reaction" to the treatment.

Hope has made 21 Christmas trips to entertain troops overseas and he was disappointed by the delay in departure this time, the spokesman said.

His troupe includes: comedian Jerry Colonna, actresses Tuesday Weld and Anita Bryant, Michele Metrinko who is Miss USA, actor Peter Leeds, and Les Brown and his band.

$10 Bogus Check Nets 2-Year Prison Term

Lancaster District Judge Herbert Ronin Thursday sentenced Vince Saldivar to two years in the Nebraska Penal Complex on a no-fund check charge.

Saldivar, age and address not listed, had pleaded guilty Dec. 6 to issuing a $10 no-fund check Sept. 17.

Cops Get Pay Raise

Mexico City (AP)—Uniformed policemen in the Mexican capital got a raise in time for Christmas. The $12 increase boosts their pay to around $75 a month.

Regents Discuss Buying Hill Hatchery Property

The University of Nebraska Board of Regents discussed the possibility Thursday of negotiating for purchase of the Hill Hatchery building and its adjoining property west of the NU campus.

The purchase talk was the result of an appearance by Roscoe Hill, owner of the hatchery. Hill asked for assurance that the University would not move into the area for a 15-year period.

Hill explained that he was forced to move the location of the hatchery because the Interstate Highway took away a portion of his land at 10th and S. He said attempts to sell the remaining building and property were fruitless unless he could assure the prospective buyer that he would be safe from University expansion for the 15-year period.

The Regents explained to Hill that they could not give him that assurance but that they would be willing to negotiate for possible purchase of the land. No definite action was taken.

Johnson's Name Given To Schools Near His Home

Johnson City, Tex. (AP)—The Johnson City School Board voted to change the name of the public school system to the Lyndon B. Johnson public schools.

President Johnson's central Texas ranch is located nearby and the town was named after his ancestors.

Mrs. J. B. Leonard, school superintendent, said the Chamber of Commerce and the Parent-Teacher Association recommended the change to the Lyndon B. Johnson High and the Lyndon B. Johnson Elementary School.

February Draft Quota Lowered

Washington (UPI) — The Defense Department Thursday asked for the drafting of 12,000 men for the Army during February, a reduction of 4,000 from the quota set for January.

The department said a total of 21,500 recruits will be needed in February, with 9,500 expected to come from enlistments. The Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps will rely entirely on enlistments.

The December draft quota is 13,000 men. Those for October and November were 17,000 each. The draft is still running higher than usual because enlistments and inductions from the 1961-62 Berlin crisis buildup are expiring.

The February draft will bring total inductions since September 1950, to 2,924,450 men.

Freeways And Holiday Party Bad Mixture

Los Angeles (UPI) — The maze of southern California freeways and highways sometimes gets to be too much.

Early Thursday special officer Hermini Trujillo at International Airport saw a small, foreign car putting along an airport runway behind a jet airliner which was preparing to take off.

Trujillo gave chase, then took Leo O'Hearn, 38, Northridge, into custody on charges of being drunk on airport property, a municipal code violation.

O'Hearn said he was returning home from an office Christmas party when he became lost and accidently wandered onto the runway.

Senators, NU Regents Swap Opinions At Meet

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

"A thorough and concise exchange of opinions" was the tenor established at a meeting Thursday between the University of Nebraska Board of Regents and the Legislative Council Higher Education Study Committee, Sen. Marvin E. Stromer of Lincoln reported.

Stromer, committee chairman, made that comment at the close of a 90-minute executive session with the regents at the Nebraska Center.

"We are starting the search for a proper answer to Nebraska's higher education problems by having frank and open discussions with the bodies now entrusted with the individual institutions' fortunes.

First In a Series

"The meeting with the Board of Regents was the first in a series, and was a thorough and concise exchange of opinions," Stromer said.

"The committee is seeking all the help it can get in order to inform the people of Nebraska as to whether or not there may be a better way of handling the state's public institutions of higher learning.

Stromer released a copy of the suggested areas of inquiry the committee is expected to pursue in its information - gathering sessions with the various institutions of higher education.

It includes eight broad areas, each of which is subdivided into items of specific matters the committee will explore in its study.

Among the eight areas of study: the purpose of existing institutions of higher learning; the concept of educational offerings in the institutions; the feasibility of a coordinated board of higher learning, as opposed to the present system of individual governing boards, and interinstitutional relationships.

To Explore Authority

The committee also is expected to explore various types of executive authority; the question of higher entrance requirements, the matter of adequate opportunity for less well-qualified students to continue their education, and the needs of the business, professional and industrial communities of Nebraska.

A definite date has not been set, but the committee expects to meet early next year with the State Normal Board, governing body of the four state colleges.

CHARGE 'BAMA GUARDSMEN IN BOMB INCIDENT

Tuscaloosa, Ala. (UPI) — Three members of the Alabama National Guard, including an officer, were arrested Thursday and charged with setting off three explosions last month near the University of Alabama campus, integrated last June.

James T. Perkins of Nearby Holt, a 2nd Lieutenant, SP5 James T. Maxwell of Tuscaloosa and Sgt. Norman R. Daniel of Fairfield, near Birmingham, were arrested only a few hours after officers announced they had the bombings solved.

Authorities said all three men were on federal duty when the explosion went off.

Perkins and Maxwell, both 27, were released on $5,000 bond. Daniel was picked up in Birmingham later and was not released immediately.

All Cameras Barred From Ruby Trial

Dallas, Tex. (AP)— Judge Joe B. Brown has barred all cameras from the murder trial of Jack Ruby.

Ruby is scheduled to go to trial Feb. 3 for killing Lee Harvey Oswald, accused as the assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

Brown's handling of trial coverage arrangements brought criticism Thursday from Clayton Fowler, president of the Dallas Criminal Bar Association.

"Any time a public event cannot be handled by the public press there is something amiss," said Fowler. "I wouldn't say there is anything wrong, but it is just not right.

"When you start saying this newsman can cover the trial and this man can't, there's something wrong with the setup.

Brown accepted the volunteer services of a public relations-advertising firm to act as an intermediary between the judge and newsmen.

The judge, speaking though the agency, said, "No television equipment, no radio recording equipment and no cameras for still photographs will be permitted in the courtroom while the court is in session."

Mexican Tour

Twenty-four persons, including Nebraska Rural Youth members, begin an educational tour to Mexico Friday.

The tour, to continue to Jan. 5, is part of the Nebraska rural Youth program to increase international understanding, according to John Orr, associate state leader of 4-H.

U.S. 'CHRISTMAS STAR' MAY NOT BLOOM IN SPACE

Point Arguello, Calif. (AP)— The United States sent into orbit Thursday a satellite it hoped would bloom into a "Christmas star." But two hours after launch word came that the blossoming was in doubt.

A national space agency spokesman said that on the second orbital pass no radio signals were received from that part of the orbital package supposed to unfold into a reflective orb.

It was hoped the shining sphere would be visible during the holiday season — and for three to five years afterward — wherever around the globe its orbit and twilight coincided.

This was the sequence. Twenty-eight minutes after the 10:49 a.m. launch from this naval missile facility an orbiting cannister was to eject a package which inflated into a 12-foot-diameter aluminum and plastic sphere, covered with polka-dots.

A tracking station at South Point, Hawaii, received radio signals from both cannister and package, indicating an orbit.

A tracking station in South Africa then reported that on the second pass it received signals from the cannister only.

At this point, a space agency spokesman said this could mean either that the package failed to achieve a stable orbit, or its radio failed.

Retirement Setup Suit Draws Fire

Gov. Frank Morrison Thursday criticized the filing of a suit in Lancaster District Court by an employe of the State Aeronautics Department challenging the constitutionality of the state employes retirement system enacted by the 1963 Legislature.

As a result of the suit filed Wednesday, a temporary restraining order has been issued barring implementation of the retirement system scheduled to go into effect Jan. 1.

Morrison said the retirement system was enacted for the benefit of state employes and to make the state competitive with private industry in attracting able personnel. He said if any employe was or is unhappy with it he should have tried to block or change it through the Legislature rather than going through the court. The governor said he thinks the vast majority of state employes wanted the retirement program.

No Action

But the governor emphasized he will "certainly not" take any action against Gordon Gossman, the Aeronautics Department aide who filed the suit.

Atty. Gen. Clarence A. H. Meyer, whose office will defend the state officials named in the suit, has assigned Asst. Atty. Gen. Richard Williams to handle the suit.

Top Priority

Meyer said the case will be given top priority by his office.

Hearing on the suit has been set for Jan. 9.

O'Neill Senator Files For Eighth Term In Unicam

Sen. Frank Nelson of O'Neill Thursday filed with the Secretary of State for his eighth consecutive term in the Nebraska Legislature.

Also filing for the Legislature from the new 2nd district was R. S. Budd of Nebraska City.

Sen. William Brandt of Unadilla, who has represented that area the past two terms, has announced he will not seek re-election.
